BREAKING-LINE PASSES

One of the modern centre-back's skills is to have the capacity of generating breaking-line passes, build-up from the back and archive superiorities through the combination play. All these aspects are common to him and end up helping his team.

COVERAGES AND ANTICIPATIONS

He is quick and reads the defensive play well in order to regain the possession of the ball. He is usually well positioned in his zone. It allows him to anticipate a good quantity of balls.

DEFENSIVE DUELS

Generally, he is aggressive when running, which makes him hard to overcome when tackling on the sides. Also, he is strong, which allows him to succeed in 1v1 and in aerial duels. He uses his body well to protect the ball.

TECHNICAL ABILITY

He has a great technique, both to control the ball and pass it. This quality allows him to be part of the creation and association of play. His technical gestures allow him to open up from his position.
