TEMPO OF PLAY

He has a great ball control and tempo of play. Once he receives it, he positions his body well to keep the ball protected. He is useful for the combination play, outstanding for on the ground associations. His good short pass allows him to play dynamically.

TECHNICAL ABILITY

He has interesting technical skills. It allows him to be a participative player no matter the zone of the field he is at. He makes the game easy since he possesses great oriented controls to get away from the pressure. He uses his weak foot well.

Tactical analysis

ASSOCIATIVE CAPACITY

He is a very intense midfielder, not just when trying to recover the ball, but in transitions. He recognizes when he has to make an intense movement off the ball. He is strong to keep the possession and advance into attack.

BUILDING-UP PHASE

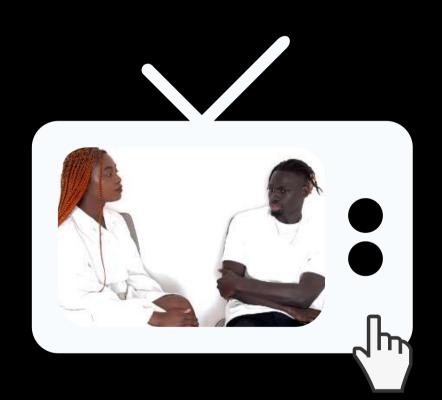

It is easy for him to break the first line of pressure through either his driving or passing ability. He is an important player to build-up from the back. He uses to retreat into defensive zone to be and option to move forward into attack.
