INDIVIDUAL DUELS

He makes different types of marking, but there is something in common: he does not allow the rival to advance effortlessly. He is always near him in order to unbalance and regain the possession. His great body type helps him to win 1v1 duels.

Tactical analysis

TECHNICAL ABILITY

He has a great technique, both to control the ball and pass it. This quality allows him to be part of the creation and association of play. He wins second balls, and then he passes to the third man. He is able to make through the line passes.

BUILDING-UP PHASE

He knows how to generate breaking-line passes and drive the ball forward. He is able to assume leadership and generate gaps while driving the ball or sending long to a teammate.

AERIAL DUELS

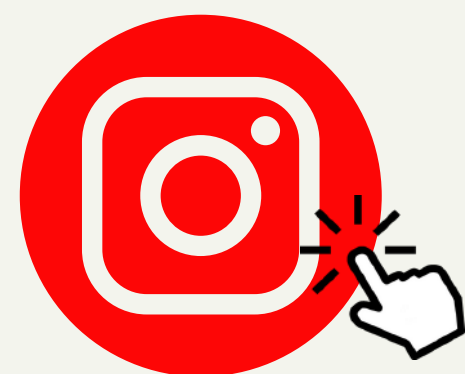

Due to his height, he is a footballer who jumps high and wins many aerial duels. In goal kick situations, he is a key player to avoid a second ball since he usually gets it and makes a long clearance to refuse any possible attack.
