2019 - 2021
GRATITUDE REPORT

A MESSAGE

FROM THE CEO/EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Dear friends,

One of my favorite quotes from Fred Rogers is to “Look for the Helpers. You will always find people who are helping.” Thankfully for us as an institution, we never have to look very far. We made it through our most challenging period with the leadership of our board, led by President Marianne Devine and Chairman Jeff Berkowitz, YOUR help, and because of YOUR passion for children's education, health, and wellbeing. Our last gala on February 29, 2020, raised over $1 million, which helped sustain us through the 408-day closure of the Museum's galleries due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

Your continued support and belief in us not only kept our institution running but also gave us the ability to turn outward so we could serve as “helpers” for families in need. At the start of 2021 (July 1, 2020), our exhibit galleries remained closed but our commitment to the community was unwavering. Our talented team was busy executing many reimagined ways to best serve children during a global pandemic.

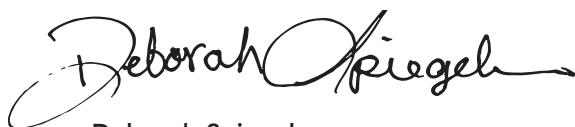

With your help, the Museum functioned as a distribution center and hosted EIGHT drive-thru events, providing free grocery packs and educational kits to families in need including those enrolled in our S.M.A.R.T Afterschool Program. Our team continued to turn the Museum's signature literacy, STEAM, and art-based programming into subsidized virtual outreach experiences and free digital content accessible on our social media channels and website.

Continuing our commitment to reducing inequities in education, we expanded our reach to better respond to deepening disparities in learning loss for children from underserved communities due to the global pandemic. The Museum launched the READY For School initiative to provide essential educational support for kindergarten to fifth-grade children whose opportunities are limited due to systemic inequalities. The Museum also provided scholarships to children from low-income neighborhoods to attend our Explorers Summer Camp, where each week campers learned about a different global destination and gained an appreciation for our cultural differences.

Before closing on March 13, 2020, we completed the renovation of our galleries and auditorium, to be enjoyed upon reopening! When we were able to safely begin phase 1 of reopening in May 2021, we proudly hosted frontline workers and their families to be the first to enjoy these new spaces for a fully subsidized Grand Opening Weekend. In June, the Museum returned to operating seven days a week and welcomed THE WIZARD OF OZ™ Educational Exhibit, which appropriately celebrated the story of overcoming obstacles and growing in the face of adversity! Additional on-site and online programming highlighted diversity and multi-sensory access with our signature events, such as Sensory Friendly Saturday, which provides free access to families that have children on the spectrum to explore the Museum in a sensory-modified setting, and our LGBTQ+ initiative, Rainbow Families Month.

Thanks to YOU, we accomplished so much more in this short time. Please take a moment to look through the following pages to celebrate these achievements with us. We look forward to the future and supporting the next generation of leaders and changemakers TOGETHER.

With gratitude,

Deborah Spiegelman

MUSEUM AT HOME

Providing Accessible Educational Virtually

After closing our galleries in March 2020 as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic, the Museum team worked together, ensuring that our innovative educational programming would remain accessible to children and families. The result was Museum at Home, which combined our early childhood expertise with strengths in visual and performing arts.

Accessible through the Museum's social media channels and website, daily videos and how-to guides were shared, free of charge, to the community and beyond. Reaching 2,221,231 people across our social media channels, children had access to virtual play-based learning opportunities in science, physical development, literacy, mathematical thinking, social and emotional development, and self-expression through art/culture.

This new virtual platform, supported by Irma and Norman Braman Philanthropic Fund and Peacock Foundation, Inc., helped us maintain important partnerships with local artists and experts while providing a new opportunity to work with many more beyond Miami. Collaborations included programs with with Jamaican born, Miami-based Multimedia Artist, Marcus Blake; Wire Sculptor David Zalben; Brazilian Postwar & Contemporary Artist, Adriana Carvalho; Romero Britto, World-Renowned Pop Artist, and Darius Daughtry, Art Prevails Project.

Topics featured:

FOOD IN-SECURITY

COMBATING

Promoting health and wellness has always been a core value of the Museum. In addition to highlighting those values in our virtual programming, we turned our attention to the critical need many of our local families are facing: food insecurity. Expanding our role as a "town-center" for local families, we partnered with Farm Share and Jewish Community Services of South Florida, hosting drive-thru distributions with the support of Richard and Susan Lampen. The need in our community was evident as families lined up three hours before the distributions began. As a children's museum – our team added playful elements such as theatrical performances, ensuring that the experience was welcoming for families. In total, we distributed more than 50,000 lbs. of nutritious groceries.

We also provided families with tangible items, promoting physical fitness, literacy, art, and creativity at home, such as:

THE BARRIERS

Serving Miami's Most Impoverished Neighborhoods

The Museum remains committed to providing accessible educational programs at no cost to families whose opportunities are limited by geography, ethnicity, economics, and ability. For the past nine years, the Museum has hosted our S.M.A.R.T (Safe, Multicultural, Artistic, Recreational Teaching) Afterschool Program for students at Title 1 schools through a contract from The Children's Trust. Even through our COVID-19 closure, we continued to provide this free after-school and mentorship program for 314 students attending Title 1 schools located in Earlington Heights, Brownsville, Liberty City, and Miami Gardens, as we know that families are depending on us for a safe and educational program. This year, we were able to give professional support from certified psychologists and therapists from Baptist Health, assisting with transitioning back to an in-person learning environment.

In May 2021, 250 READY for School kits were distributed to families in Miami's underserved neighborhoods for children in kindergarten through fifth grade, helping mitigate impacts by the "COVID slide" learning loss. Kits included books and items that promoted literacy, math skills, physical health, creative self-expression, and a $10 Amazon gift card, thanks to The City of Miami, The Children's Trust, Judge Norman Gerstein, Nicola Brown, and Tania Galloni.

With support from The Salah Foundation, we offered 103 children from our S.M.A.R.T Afterschool Program with Winter & Spring camp scholarships. Transportation and meals were provided to ensure children had a safe space to explore and participate in a STEAM enriched program while on break. Virtual cooking classes were afforded by FLIPANY, as well as Tatsey's, and during Spring Camp, campers learned about circuits and used motors and batteries to build objects that move.

THANKS TO YOU

COUNTLESS OTHER FAMILIES LIKE THE MORRIS FAMILY HAVE ACCESS TO THE MUSEUM'S EDUCATIONAL PROGRAMS.

The Miami Children's Museum Aftercare program at Kelsey L. Pharr Elementary has been a godsend for me. As a single parent of three, I can really say that this program has helped me to finish school and work while knowing that my kids are in a comfortable and safe place. My daughter has been in attendance with this program since kindergarten and will soon transition to middle school. Da'niya has a medical issue and has been welcomed, loved, and taken care of without any discrimination. This program has helped my daughter become so comfortable with who she is, while my sons have been given the opportunity to have positive role models impact them. Thank you, my aftercare family, for all that you do for not just me and my family but families here at Kelsey L. Pharr.

Charmaine Morris, Parent of Robert, Demetrius & Da'niya

Supporting Children Of All Abilities

One of the cornerstones of our Mission is providing an inclusive learning environment that ensures high-quality, arts-based programming is accessible to children of ALL abilities. To achieve this, we created an array of multi-sensory access programs. These free programs are tailored to children with autism spectrum disorder, sensory processing disorders, and global developmental delays as well as their caregivers.

During our closure, we worked on expanding our accessibility by creating brochures in Braille and Large Print for guests that are vision impaired. Our team also completed Sighted Guide Training led by Miami Lighthouse for the Blind. Thanks to The Ethel and Harry Reckson Foundation/Michael Spritzer & Marjorie Baron, we also redesigned our website so that anyone with a disability, from anywhere in the world, can access and navigate our website with ease and confidence. The website now meets all Web Content Accessibility Guidelines Level AAA – a rare achievement!

In October 2020, the Museum transformed its Arts Residency for Children with Autism program to be fully virtually. Thanks to the Miami-Dade County Department of Cultural Affairs Youth Arts Enrichment Program Grant, 95 children ages 5-12 with special needs experienced 3 theater performances and 2 hands-on creative activities at no cost. In 2021, we served an additional 136 children and more than 50 teachers, at 5 schools!

In April 2021, in honor of Autism Awareness Month, we hosted weekly story times with guest readers, empowering children and adults on the spectrum, while raising awareness and fostering inclusive mindsets. We also hosted a Sensory Kit Distribution, sponsored by AT&T Pioneers. This event provided 200 kits containing books, sensory fidgets, and calming activities to families at no cost.

In June of 2021, we were happy to resume our in-person Sensory Friendly Saturday, providing families with children on the spectrum the opportunity to explore the Museum in a sensory-modified setting. Financial barriers are some of the toughest for families of children with disabilities to overcome and we're so proud to be able to offer them high-quality and engaging sensory-friendly experiences at no cost.

EDUCATION

Furthering our commitment to serving children and families in need, for the 2020-2021 school year, thanks to a grant from The Salah Foundation, we provided 3 disadvantaged children with full scholarships to attend the Early Childhood Institute (ECI). ECI works with children ranging from ages 12 months to 5 years old and remained fully active during this unprecedented year. Within days of transitioning to remote learning, the Museum was the first preschool to pilot Colegia, a secure virtual learning platform. In January 2021, our National Association for the Education of Young Children (NAEYC) accredited Early Childhood Institute preschool, resumed in-person classes with 66 children, while still providing remote learning for those students who needed it. To make the transition as smooth as possible, we partnered with Baptist Health who provided training for our parents and teachers before returning to in-person instruction, titled, "Reducing Anxiety for Children During Back to School."

As a leader in childhood education, Miami Children's Museum partners with Early Head Start, providing hands-on comprehensive training to preschool teachers and educational programs to preschoolers in Miami-Dade County. From May to July, our team offered nine virtual and bilingual training sessions to preschool teachers from Hialeah and Little Havana, enhancing the STEAM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts, and Mathematics) curriculum for children 1-3 years old, thanks to Early Learning Coalition in partnership with Early Head Start.

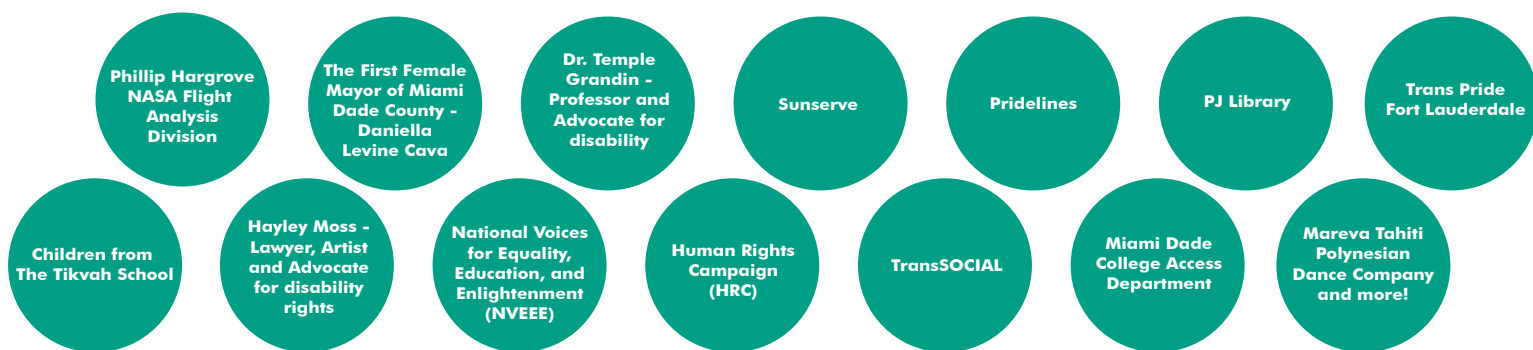

EMBRACING

REPRESENTATION Diversity & Inclusion Values

Since our inception, we believe it is our responsibility to be at the forefront of facilitating necessary dialogue that fosters mutual respect for the diverse beliefs and values of all persons and groups. As an early childhood institution, it is our obligation to give children access to a diverse education in a safe and supportive environment during the most critical time of their development. While inclusion, community, equity, and culture have been in the fabric of the Museum, we also took a moment to reflect on how we can increase our efforts. Diversity Education is incorporated into monthly signature programs, drop-in workshops, and Museum at Home digital resources. This year, we expanded our inclusion initiative by launching a staff DEI (Diversity Education & Inclusion) committee, encouraging dialogue amongst all levels of team members, increasing accountability, and reinforcing our commitment to working with organizations that provide authentic representation in all programs.

We continue prioritizing representation in all aspects of our programming, knowing the critical impact it has on children's self-identity and how they view the world. Selecting topics that highlight diverse cultures, interests, backgrounds, and abilities helps us accomplish this. This year, we hosted various special guests, helping reflect diversity in our community; They included:

CELEBRATION Healthcare Heroes, First Responders, & Frontline Workers

After our exhibits and galleries were closed for 408 days, we hosted a special reopening celebration to honor the courageous work of local first responders and healthcare workers. Thanks to Bilzin Sumberg's sponsorship, we offered free admission to these families and welcomed over 1,028 guests back to the Museum. With reopening, we implemented pre-booked two-hour play sessions, with capacity limits, so families could safely enjoy the galleries while giving our staff adequate time to clean between visits. Funding from Peacock Foundation, Inc. supported the reopening and extra expenses related to the implementation of health and safety protocols.

REOPENING

INAUGURAL FUN FORE ALL AGES GOLF TOURNAMENT

Due to the continuous nature of the pandemic, we had no choice but to postpone our annual Be A Kid Again Gala, which historically raises over one million dollars, until 2023. This created an opportunity to reimagine our fundraising events and launch a new multi-generational day of play in support of the Museum as an essential educational organization while following all CDC and social distancing guidelines. Museum supporters came together to tee off for a worthy cause on Sunday, April 18, 2021, when Miami Children's Museum hosted our Inaugural Fun Fore All Ages Golf Tournament with a virtual reception the following evening. Chaired by The Netkin Family, The Riemer Family, and honorary Chair Mayor Dan Gelber, 88 golfers enjoyed a day at Miami Beach Golf Club raising more than $143,000! As this was a Museum event, it was only fitting that each foursome included one Junior Champion Golfer, a young golf enthusiast with playing experience between the ages of 10-18.

We are grateful to our sponsors and players for their continued support during these unprecedented times. Special thanks to our event committee for their leadership. Committee members included Howard Berkowitz, Michael Berkowitz, Nancy Lash, Melissa Netkin, Sam Netkin, Ronald Street, Gary Reshefsky, Brian Riemer, Paul Riemer, and Mark Tobin.

IN MEMORY OF EVAN REED

We suffered a tragic loss this year with the passing of longtime Board Member and friend, Evan Reed. Evan was a dedicated member of our community, whose core values aligned deeply with the mission of the Museum. Evan was instrumental for many of our institution's accomplishments throughout the years. His passion for promoting the arts and giving back to his adopted home of Miami made Evan an invaluable member of the community. Serving on our Board for over 20 years, Evan helped make it possible for us to open at our current location on Watson Island. He worked tirelessly to secure the Museum's bridge financing in 2002, served as a goodwill ambassador, and introduced us to others who cared about children and arts education. He helped us forge our revered partnership with Art Basel, "Art Kids". Evan remained active on the Board of Directors until his untimely passing and his legacy will live on forever at the Museum and through his wife, Stefanie, and children, Andrew and Rebecca.
