SCIENCE FESTIVAL

Presented by THE BIOGEN IDEC FOUNDATION

April 10–26, 2015
www.ncsciencefestival.org

WHAT IS IT?

North Carolina Science Festival is a two-week-long, 500-mile-wide celebration of science!

It's a collection of science-themed events — hundreds of different events across the state, with something for everyone. Choose from tours, guest speakers, family science programs, performances, hands-on activities, star parties and more. Most Festival events are free!

WHERE IS IT?

Festival events are scheduled in every region of North Carolina — from the mountains to the coast. So there's definitely a Festival event near you!

You'll find Festival events at your favorite science centers, museums, colleges, universities, art galleries, businesses, schools, parks, libraries and more!

HOW DO I GET INVOLVED?

Explore the complete list of all North Carolina Science Festival events online! The Festival website includes a calendar that you can search by location, date and event type.
