Elliot Bronson (1858-1931) was a land agent who worked to consolidate the contiguous properties that formed Peoples State Forest. His son, Elliot Bronson (1899-1983) continued this work and became Connecticut's State Parks Director.

The Elliot Bronson Trail goes over Ragged Mountain which has an elevation of 1,040 feet. Parking for 6 cars is located on Park Rd ( $41^{\circ}55'30''N$   $72^{\circ}58'31''W$ ), 50 yards north of rt 181. Parking is also located next to the Gate on Greenwoods Road ( $41^{\circ}55'21.74''N$   $72^{\circ}59'43.75''W$ ) 0.8 miles north of rt 181. If you are hiking this as the 4.3 mile “out & back” from Park Rd to the Gate, it would be slightly easier parking on Park Road, which has the higher elevation. If you are using 2 cars, it would be much easier to start from Park Rd. The trail is marked by a blue blaze with a red dot (B/R). The Walt Landgraf Trail (red blaze) connects with this trail 0.3 miles from Park Rd. It is an “out & back” hike which would add an extra 0.5 miles to your hiking total. The B/R blazes end when you reach Greenwoods Road. Follow the road west to the Gate.
