

METROPOLIS

Shop Talk: Making Sense of Eckhaus Latta at the Whitney

by Anna Fixsen
August 17, 2018

Eckhaus Latta designed a special collection for the Whitney show. Their friends and collaborators designed all of the shop elements. Pictured here is a clothing rack designed by Jeffrey Joyal.

Quote excerpt from article:

“... a clothing rack by Jeffrey Joyal made from a horizontal marching band flagpole, its eagle tipped sideways like a defeated medieval pike.”

Original article: <https://www.metropolismag.com/design/eckhaus-latta-whitney-exhibition-review/>