

Connect your values
to your financial decisions

Kingdom Advisors was founded by Ron Blue and Larry Burkett in 2003. Today, as the leading advocate for the Christian financial industry, Kingdom Advisors serves the public by promoting the integration of a biblical worldview across the financial services industry.

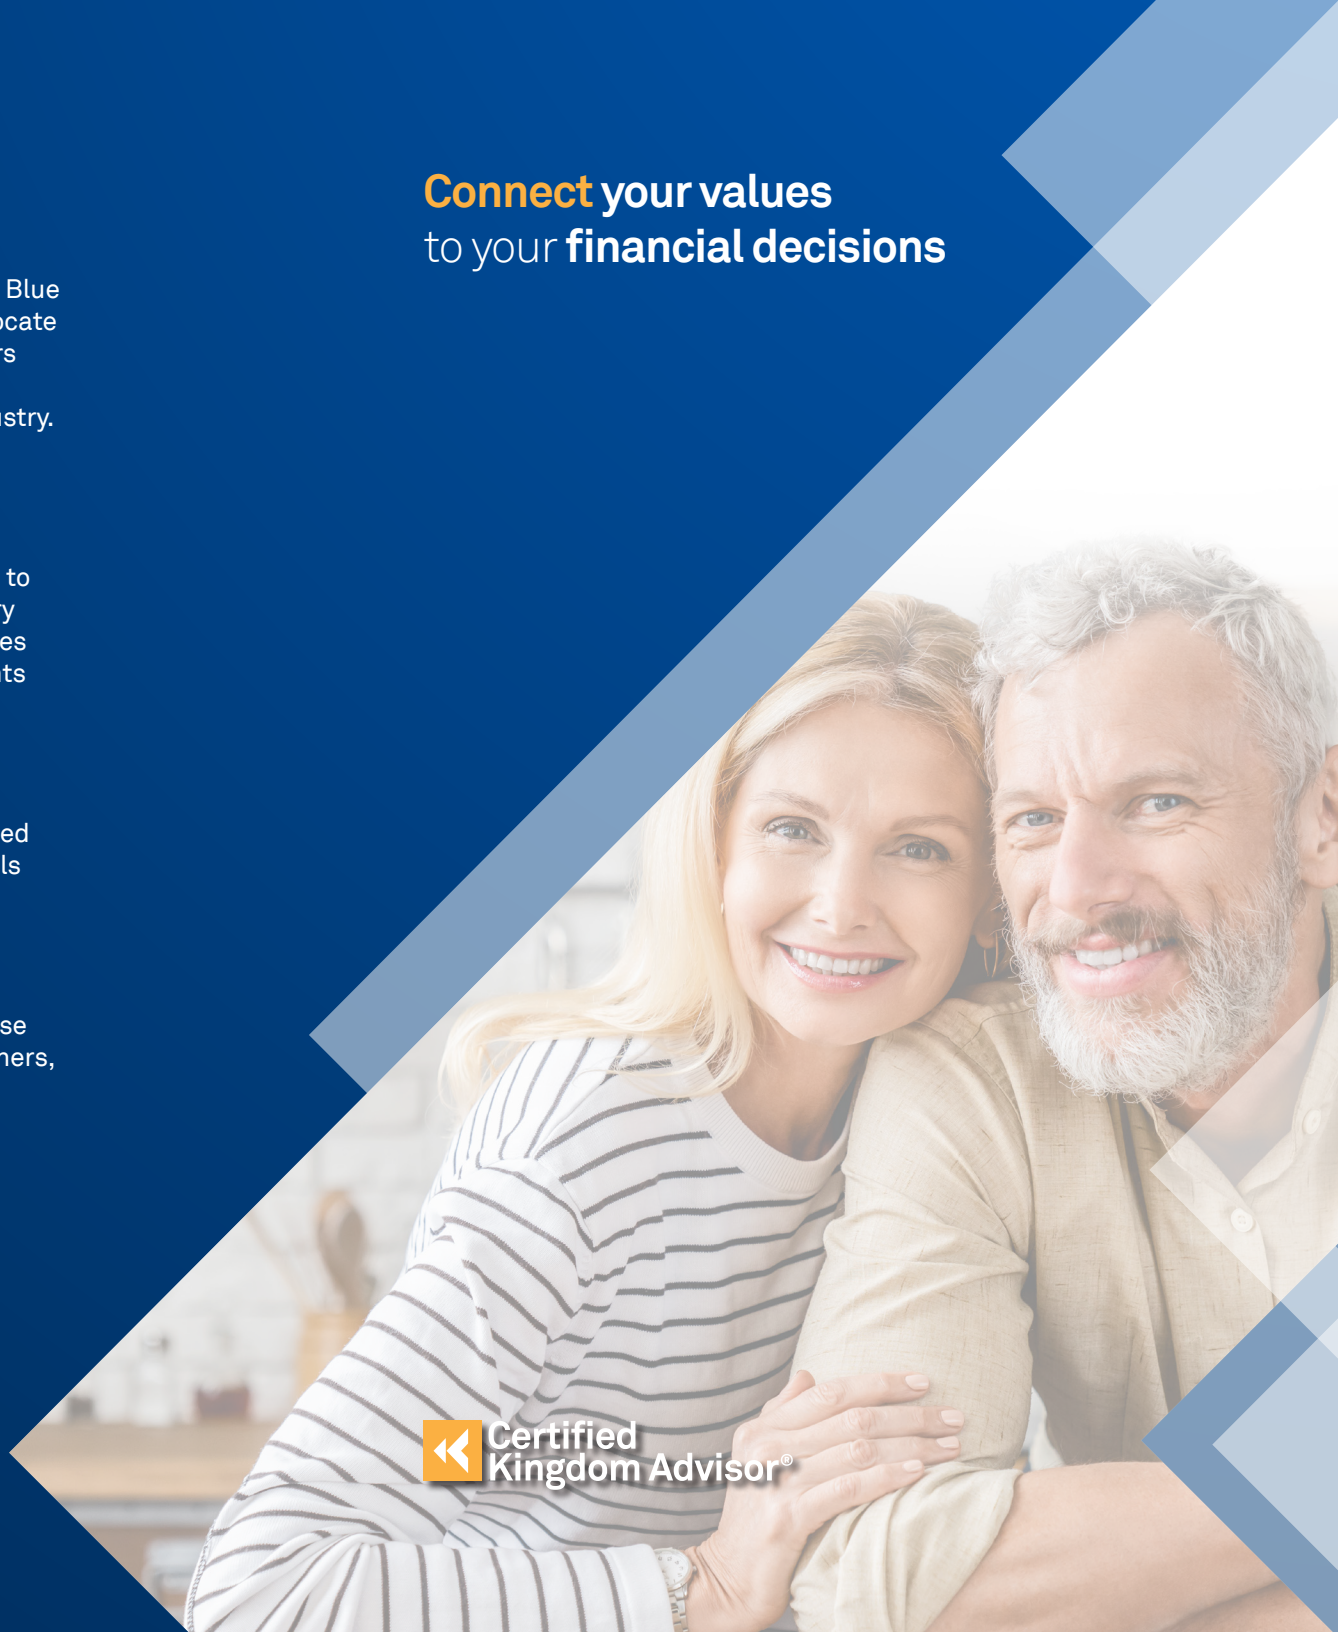

Kingdom Advisors serves a network of thousands of Christian financial professionals, equipping and empowering them to carry biblical financial wisdom to their clients. Through partnership with other industry leaders and service providers, Kingdom Advisors gives these advisors the resources they need to help clients align their faith values with their financial decisions and investments.

Kingdom Advisors also grants the industry-recognized Certified Kingdom Advisor® designation to individuals who have satisfied rigorous training and credibility standards. Financial professionals who are eligible to seek the CKA® designation hold the appropriate professional designations or 10+ years of full-time experience that demonstrate their technical expertise in core financial disciplines including financial planners, investment professionals, attorneys, accountants, tax professionals, and insurance professionals.

More than ever before, Christian clients are looking for an advisor who shares their faith values.

A Certified Kingdom Advisor® holds the highest credential in the advising world for integrating biblical wisdom into their financial counsel. These men and women are committed to helping you order your financial decisions around the core belief that God owns it all—our role is to wisely steward those resources.

When you choose a Certified Kingdom Advisor®, you are choosing someone who has demonstrated themselves to be a principled, competent, biblically wise financial professional who is passionate about helping you align your financial decisions and investments with your Christian values.

Our financial journey is a key way God shapes our spiritual journey. Discover how meaningful it can be when your family's faith and finances are successfully integrated.

That's the power of working with a Certified Kingdom Advisor®.

What is a Certified Kingdom Advisor®?

Certified Kingdom Advisor® is a designation recognized by the financial services industry and granted by Kingdom Advisors to individuals who have satisfied rigorous training and credibility standards and demonstrated that they are:

Committed to integrating biblical wisdom in financial counsel by obtaining the Certified Kingdom Advisor® designation and by agreeing to help clients align their financial decisions with their Christian values.

Committed to ethical practice by agreeing to uphold and practice the Kingdom Advisors Code of Ethics, to put the client's best interest above their own, and to maintain active local church involvement and provide pastoral and client references.

Committed to biblical stewardship

by acknowledging that God owns everything and that we are only managers, by agreeing to model biblical stewardship in their personal and professional lives, and to give in proportion to their income.

Committed to professional excellence by providing evidence of an approved professional designation (varying by discipline) or by having at least 10 years of full-time experience in their discipline.
