Embolden

Embolden is a communications agency which engages and connects people through creativity, innovation and the art of storytelling. Embolden means to instil with boldness. They do this for our clients every day. Their purpose is to make clients' boldest communication mission a reality. They think big and act smart. This is achieved by creating stand-out moments through film, events and immersive digital technologies.

Embolden is a full-service creative agency specialising in film, events and digital. They have been producing ground-breaking films, events, social and digital platforms for clients for 25 years.

Their team has a wealth of experience in assessing clients' needs, understanding target audiences, and bringing this together to deliver innovative and effective solutions whilst meeting their commercial objectives.

The team's collaborative approach is a fundamental part of how they deliver successful communications.

Based in Central London, they have delivered projects across 54 countries, for 37 international clients with a network of 20 global partners.

Their experience has been shaped by working with world-leading businesses, brands, organisations and governments. They are a trusted partner of many CEO leadership and communications teams. They have a reputation for delivering quality global events such as the G8 Summit in Northern Ireland and the Arctic Davos Summit. Our work covers corporate events, employee communications, consumer-facing brand engagement, and awareness campaigns for charities.

Client sectors include: private (Finance, Professional Services, Telecoms, Energy, FMCG, Pharmaceutical); public (national and international government), and third sector (from local NGOs to global foundations).

Clients include: BP, GSK, Airbus, Royal Navy, Taxand, FCO, Varkey Foundation, Unilever and Tetra Pak.

The RNPT films successfully communicate why the Royal Navy plays such a vital role in protecting the UK's economy. They have been received well by audiences around the country and continue to be at the forefront of the Royal Navy's overall external communications strategy."
