

SUMMARY of the FIFTEEN CRISES of LEADERSHIP

john m. dettoni, ph.d.

- 1. Fragmentation of person into disparate, unrelated parts: seeing people as one-dimensional
- 2. Lack of moral, ethical, philosophical foundation
- 3. Confused priorities
- 4. Leaders as managers
- 5. Success is...power and/or money or both!
- 6. Only constant is change
- 7. Over abundance of information – avalanche
- 8. Powerful and wealthy control and manipulate
- 9. Unpredictable, unstable political climate
- 10. Fundamentalism
- 11. Intractable major diseases worldwide
- 12. State operated, secularist control of government
- 13. Dictatorship of false democracy: people rule!
- 14. World characterized by lack of peace and stability
- 15. Loss of hope
