

Travis Warnke, a committed resident of Elkhart for almost seven years, holds a deep affection for our community, which has flourished during his time here. His active engagement on the Board of Adjustments reflects his strong desire to enhance our community, a commitment he seeks to intensify as a member of the City Council. Travis brings a solid foundation in Municipal Engineering and community planning, equipping him to address the forthcoming challenges and opportunities that our cherished community will face. He is devoted to fostering unity, promoting sustainability, and playing an instrumental role in shaping our community's future.

