Tavo Table Collection by jehs+laub

Initially released in 2021, Tavo is a series of conference tables marked by rich character and a striking mix of materials. The design is centered around the concrete base, generating a prolific presence with its sculptural shape and neutral aesthetic. Expanding upon the collection for 2022, Davis Furniture is adding double base options, which lengthens the table up to 192". Through the addition of these new length options, Tavo continues to evolve into a breathtaking centerpiece in any interior.

The Tavo Table Collection adds warmth and character to the workplace by melding organic shapes and raw materials. Designed with adaptability in mind, the tabletops are available in various materials, from remarkable solid wood slabs to Fenix™ innovative materials in a range of neutral hues. Different power lid options are also available within the tabletop, adding to the versatility of the design. Resting between the tabletop and its concrete base, a steel structure provides support and wire management as well as visual intrigue. Combining its concrete base with these diverse elements, Tavo exudes a harmonious design with its depth of materiality and technological precision. Blending the stylistic comforts of home with increased commercial durability, Tavo's sculptural silhouette stands out as a modern showpiece design for any interior, from contract to residential.

Markus Jehs and Jürgen Laub met each other during their academic studies of industrial design in Germany and became friends after an internship in New York in 1990. Shortly after they graduated, they set up their studio, jehs+laub, in 1994. From that time on, they started to design furniture and lamps for Italian companies, such as Cassina, Ycami and Nemo. They soon expanded their collaboration with brands like Fritz Hansen, Knoll International, Renz, Stelton, Schönbuch, Cor and Wilkhahn. Davis Furniture began its long-standing collaboration with jehs+laub in 2009, and since that time, the designers have created multiple award-winning collections, including the Ginkgo family, A-Collection, Poise Occasional tables, Sachet, Reed and Hue, to name a few.

Founded in 1944, Davis Furniture is a leading voice in the contract furniture industry focused on placing Design at the center of every initiative while looking to the future of the workplace.
