What's New This Week

A Roller Coaster

Reports that things are not as bad as they might be mix with reports of local outbreaks.

For Mayors

Summer might help a little, but every place is susceptible to outbreaks. Vigilance and distancing needed to get cases as low as possible before the fall.

What's New This Week

Calling Contact Tracers

More than 150,000 enrolled in the free JHU contact tracing course supported by Bloomberg Philanthropies in the first week. More than 20,000 passed.

For Mayors

If your state or county is running contact tracing, your city can offer support services for quarantined contacts, promote cooperation with contact tracers, and direct tracers to JHU courses.

If your city is running contact tracing, you can train contact tracers by tapping into JHU course.
