MOVE TO END VIOLENCE
a program of the NoVo Foundation
Our Purpose in South Africa:

To learn from and with allied activists and sister movements on how we can build global movements for liberation and social change.

Purpose
Why South Africa?
Our Guiding Questions

What is liberation?

How is liberation practiced?

What are we learning?
Learning Exchange Outcomes

- Build authentic relationships between movement leaders in the U.S. and South Africa
- Inspire a learning behavior based on reflection, dialogue, and connection
- Encourage mutual learning and sharing of strategies to end violence against girls and women and further the goals of the Move to End Violence initiative
- Ground U.S.–based activists in South African grassroots-led practices
- Generate conditions for shared collective power and deeper sense of connection between the frontlines in the U.S. and South Africa
- Advance an intersectional and human rights-based movement building approach
Day 1: Opening, Meeting with Mmasthilo Motsei
Day 1: Cape Town, Robben Island

While we will not forget the brutality of apartheid, we will not want Robben Island to be a monument of our hardship and suffering.

We would want it to be a triumph of the human spirit against the forces of evil, a triumph of wisdom and largeness of spirit against small minds and pettiness, a triumph of courage and determination over human frailty and weakness.
