REGIONAL CONSTITUTION OF THE ITUC - ASIA PACIFIC

PREAMBLE

The ITUC - Asia Pacific:

EMPHASISING the desire to bring about harmony and cooperation between all types of trade unions which are free agencies of the workers, with the object of unifying their forces so that the workers whom they represent will be endowed with greater bargaining power and able to use their resources to greater advantage, both in helping themselves and making an effective contribution on a regional and world-wide scale;

DESIRING to encourage and facilitate regular consultations and cordial cooperation between its affiliated organisations on every level;

RECOGNISING the need for giving special attention to problems affecting the workers in specific areas or regions and of furthering the aims and objectives of the ITUC in such areas or regions;

EMPHASISING that it shall be autonomous in determining its policies and actions regarding regional matter, while being responsible for promoting the priorities and policies of the ITUC in the Asian and Pacific region;

CALLING AND ENCOURAGING affiliates to the ITUC which are domiciled in the area or region covered by the Regional Organisation as hereinafter defined to participate in the Regional Organisation and are assured of their autonomy as expressly guaranteed in the Constitution of the ITUC;

Hereby expresses its firm commitment to pursue the Aims as set down in this Regional Constitution.

AIMS

The Regional Organisation is inspired by the profound conviction that organisation in democratic and independent trade unions and collective bargaining are crucial to achieving the well-being of working people and their families and to security, social progress and sustainable development for all.

It has been the historic role of trade unionism, and remains its mission, to better the conditions of work and life of working women and men and their families, and to strive for human rights, social justice, gender equality, peace, freedom and democracy.

More than ever in its history, confronted by unbridled capitalist globalisation, effective internationalism is essential to the future strength of trade unionism and its capacity to realise that mission.

The Regional Organisation calls on the workers of the region to unite in its ranks, to make of it the instrument needed to call forth a better future for them and for all humanity.
It shall be the permanent responsibility of the Regional Organisation:

To defend and promote the rights and interests of all working people, without distinction, and to obtain, in particular, a fair return for their labour in conditions of dignity, justice, and safety at work and in society in general.

- It shall strive for the universal respect of fundamental rights at work, until child labour and forced labour in all their forms are abolished, discrimination at work eliminated and the trade union rights of all workers observed fully and everywhere.

- It shall denounce violations of freedom of association, of the right to strike including cross-border action, and of the right to collective bargaining, and shall mobilise international solidarity to have them brought to an end.

- It shall fight for the right to freely chosen, productive employment and social security for all.

- It shall act to end all discrimination on the basis of sex, religion, colour, nationality, ethnicity, sexual orientation, gender identity, political opinion, social origin, age or disability, and to uphold respect for diversity in society and employment.

To promote the growth and strength of the independent and democratic trade union movement.

- It shall render practical support to strengthen the capacities and membership of national trade union movements, through the coordinated provision of trade union development assistance.

- It shall initiate and support action to increase the representativeness of trade unions through the recruitment of women and men working in the informal as well as the formal economy, through extension of full rights and protection to those performing precarious and unprotected work, and through lending assistance to organising strategies and campaigns.

To be a countervailing force in the global economy in the region, committed to securing a fair distribution of wealth and income within and between countries, protection of the environment, universal access to public goods and services, comprehensive social protection, life-long learning and decent work opportunities for all.

- It shall work to strengthen the role of the ILO, and for the setting and universal application of international labour standards, and to win representation at other international and regional organisations with a view to having their policies and activities contribute coherently to the achievement of decent work, social justice and sustainable development.

- In cooperation with the Global Union Federations and the OECD-TUAC, it shall promote and support the coordination of international and regional trade union policies and activities on multinational enterprises and social dialogue with international and regional employer organisations.

To make the trade union movement inclusive, and responsive to the views and needs of all sectors of the workforce in the region.

- It shall advance women’s rights and gender equality, guarantee the full integration of women in trade unions and promote actively full gender parity in their leadership bodies and in their activities at all levels.
• It shall combat racism, xenophobia and exclusion and defend the rights and interests of migrant workers and Indigenous workers and their families and work for tolerance, equality and dialogue between different cultures.

• It shall ensure the full integration of young people in the trade union movement and act to support the access of young people to adequate education and training and to decent work, and to oppose precarity in working life.

• It shall strengthen solidarity between generations and support the rights of retired workers to decent incomes, and work to advance their interests.

• It shall defend and promote the rights of working women and men with disabilities.

To mobilise the strength, energy, resources, commitment, and talent of its affiliates and their members in the achievement of these goals, making trade union internationalism an integral part of their daily work in the region.

• It shall promote and organise campaigns, solidarity activities, days of action, and other mobilisations considered necessary to this end and gather and disseminate information required to ensure the timely and effective provision of global solidarity in the region.

• It shall seek to establish arrangements for optimal cooperation with other trade union organisations sharing its aims in order to maximise the coherence and impact of action at the different levels of the democratic and independent international trade union movement in the region.

• It shall develop links and cooperation with other civil society organisations and political groupings, without compromising trade union independence, in pursuit of the objectives of the Regional Organisation.

The Regional Organisation pledges, with the highest standards of democratic governance, transparency and accountability historically embedded in the organisation, to pursue these goals with determination, and in accordance with the enduring trade union values of solidarity, democracy and justice. It will not desist from their achievement nor be deterred by the enemies of progress, sure in the conviction that it lies in the hands of working people to determine their own future.
