

AAIS DISCLAIMER

Architectural Association Interprofessional Studio (AAIS) will make every effort to make sure that this website is available and the information on it is correct.

While the AAIS tries to ensure that the information on this website is accurate at the time of publication, it cannot guarantee that this is the case. AAIS reserves the right to change or withdraw information.

AAIS is not liable for any losses or damages you incur by using this website. You are responsible for making sure services on this website meet your needs before you use them.

AAIS is not liable for this website being unavailable due to technical reasons beyond our control.

This website has links to many third-party information providers who are not affiliated with AAIS. AAIS does not endorse any of these sites, or the information or merchandise contained or offered by these sites. AAIS cannot make any warranties as to the accuracy, reliability, or security of any information you might be requested to give any third party. We will not be liable for any damages whatsoever as a result of you accessing other information providers through links on this site.

AAIS permits its students and staff to maintain personal blogs and websites. Any views expressed on these pages do not necessarily represent the view of the AAIS or the AA.

Academic Programme Information

The Academic content on the website relates but is not promoted or authorised by the Architectural Association School of Architecture.

AAIS makes every attempt to make sure that the academic programme provided on this website is accurate and correct at the time of publication. AAIS reserves the right for any reason without notice to withdraw or change any information about the programmes or services available from or provided by or on behalf of the AAIS.