TERMINOLOGY SHEET

Agreement :	The written contract for the sale and purchase of a property. Its full title is "Agreement for J	Sale and Purchase". The Agreement is a binding document: once signed by are bound by its conditions.
Auction	Potential buyers bid against each other to buy a property at a public sale. Auction sales are always unconditional and usually a 10% deposit is required on the fall of the hammer.
	Used in relation to apartment blocks, the body corporate is the owners' group that supervises Body Corporate
	the building maintenance, collects and pays the insurance premiums, runs the block, supervises the use of common areas etc
Caveat	A warning notice registered against the title to the land that another party may have an interest or right on that property will prevent title to the land being transferred to anyone else.
Caveat Emptor	A Latin phrase meaning 'Let the Buyer Beware'.
Certificate of Title	An electronic document showing legal ownership of a block of land or an interest in land. Also known as a 'CT' or simply 'title'.
Chattel	An item of moveable property, such as carpets, curtains, stove, etc which are included in the sale price of a property. Chattels to be included in the house sale must be listed individually in the Agreement. A property valuation is usually made without taking the value of the chattels into account.
CCC (Codo Complianco	Issued by a local authority building officer or other official, stating the building work complies
CCC (Code Compliance
Certificate)	with the provisions in the Building Act and the building permit issued for the work.
Conditional/Unconditional	The Agreement allows for both 'conditional' and 'unconditional' contracts. An unconditional agreement is not bound by any conditions such as finance approval, LIM Report, etc. A conditional contract has conditions attached to it, such as finance being confirmed.
Contract	Also known, in this context, as 'the Agreement". A contract is a binding and enforceable agreement between two or more parties. See 'Agreement'.
Conveyancing	In this context, the work carried out by lawyers to transfer property from one person or entity to another.
Covenant	An agreement to abide by a particular condition, for example, an undertaking not to fence the front portion of a plot of land. This is registered on the title to the land.
Cross-lease	Where a number of people share in the ownership of a piece of land and the houses built on the land are leased from the other land owners.
Danasit	A proportion of the purchase price (usually 5-10%) is paid by the buyer when either the Deposit
	Agreement is signed or the Agreement conditions are met.
Disbursements	Disbursements are out-of-pocket expenses (such as title search and registration fees) incurred by a lawyer, on a client's behalf, and reimbursed to the lawyer by the client.
Discharge	When a mortgage is discharged, it is repaid in full and formally removed from the title (hence 'clear' title).
Easement	A right over the property of another, such as a drainage easement over a neighbouring property, or a right-of-way.
E-dealing	The term given to electronic land registration in New Zealand. Since 2009 all land registrations have been carried out electronically.
Encroachment	An unauthorised extension over a boundary of land, for example, by building on the property of a neighbour.
Equity	The amount of the property value that the owner actually owns outright, rather than owes to
Equity	a lender. For example, a property may be worth $500,000; the mortgage owed is $150,000;
For Circula	therefore the owner's equity is $350,000.
Fee Simple	Title to a property where there are no restrictions in the manner in which it can be held, kept or inherited.

Fixtures and Fittings	A fixture is an item that cannot be removed from the land or building without damage, such , meares and ricangs	as a built-in bookcase. A fitting is an item that can be removed from a property without causing damage, such as lampshades.
Freehold	Usually refers to land on which there is no mortgage or other debt.
GV	The abbreviation for 'Government Valuation', now replaced with 'Rating Valuation'.
Joint Tenancy	Two or more people own the property. On the death of one of the owners, that person's Joint Foliation	share automatically passes to the surviving owner/s.
Landonline	Website providing property professionals with secure access to New Zealand's titles register.
	It is maintained by Land Information New Zealand (LINZ) – www.landonline.govt.nz.
Leasehold	Land which is rented (or leased) from an owner.
Licence to occupy	The occupier of a property does not actually own the property, although has the right to occupy it by signing a licence. Frequently used in retirement homes.
LIM Report	A Land Information Memorandum Report is issued by a local authority giving details about the property such as rates owing, consents and drains. The council will release a property's LIM Report on payment of a fee which varies from district to district. A LIM Report is used for a property with an existing building.
LINZ	Land Information New Zealand (LINZ) is a government department responsible for land titles, geodetic and cadastral survey systems, topographic information, hydrographic information, managing Crown property and a variety of other functions. All titles to land are registered at LINZ.
Mortgage	A charge over the property of another given as security for a loan; usually required by a Multgage	lender as security for a loan. 'Mortgage' is the commonly used term for a home loan. There are various types of mortgages: table, reducing or interest-only. The mortgage instrument will be registered on the title to the land.
Mortgagee	The lender taking a mortgage.
Mortgager Mortgagor	The borrower giving the mortgage.
Nominee	The person nominated by a buyer to complete the purchase and buy the property. Under the
TAOTHITICE	Agreement form currently used, the buyer named is personally liable to complete the contract
Possession Date	The date on which the buyer physically takes possession of the property. The possession date can be different from the settlement date.
Purchaser	Buver.
Rating Valuation (RV)	The new name for the old 'Government Valuation' issued by Quotable Value New Zealand or a
Nating valuation (NV)	similar agency.
Right-of-way	Access to one property over another property. The right-of-way will be recorded on the title of both properties often in an easement. See 'Easement'.
Settlement Date	The date on which a property is fully paid for. It is usually also the date of possession, but not necessarily so.
Tenants in Common	A form of land ownership in which several owners have undivided possession of the land so that none of them is entitled to exclusive possession of any part of the land. On the death of one of the owners, that person's share passes according to their Will. If there is no Will, the property is disposed of according to the rules of intestacy.
Tender	Prospective buyers make written bids, however the seller is not required to accept any of the , chack	bids. In an 'open tender' the bids are opened when received – there is no deadline. A 'closed tender' has a due date and none of the bids are opened until the specified date and time.
	Sometimes the bids in a closed tender are called 'sealed bids'.
Tenure	The manner in which property is held, for example, leasehold or fee simple.
Term	The period over which a loan is to be repaid to the lender or the length of time of a lease.
Unconditional	An offer made on a property with no conditions, or when all the conditions have been met in onconditional.	an Agreement the property goes 'unconditional'. Auction sales are made on an unconditional basis.
Unit Title	Where apartments or flats are individually owned as a unit title, but common areas (driveway:
	vinere aparaments of hats are mainitiating owned as a unit title, but common aleas (universal) etc) are owned and administered by the body corporate.