Expertise:

Joost specialises in area and project development, environmental and planning law (including land development) and land acquisition (including compulsory purchase).

He drafts and reviews contracts for large-scale area and project developments (business parks, office locations, housing, in both urban and non-urban areas), and assists with the tenders preceding these developments. Joost additionally frequently advises clients and litigates on their behalf with regard to all aspects of environmental and planning law. He also has extensive experience in advising and assisting public authorities as well as companies on expropriation-related matters concerning infrastructure, housing, business parks and nature conservation and recreational areas, as well as the application of the municipal right of first refusal. With regard to soil pollution and/or contamination, Joost advises clients and litigates on their behalf in matters related to the application of the Soil Protection Act (Wet Bodembescherming), non-conformity upon the sale and purchase of real estate and environmental liability, among other things.

Joost's clients are mainly public authorities, developers, builders and housing associations. He also regularly advises and drafts contracts for multiple parties who jointly engage him in relation to area developments.

Joost regularly publishes on topics from his practice in various publications, including the journals 'Bouwrecht', 'Tijdschrift voor Bouwrecht', 'Vastgoedrecht' and the journal 'Tijdschrift Bodem'. He is co-author of the book 'Juridisch Handboek Transformatie en Renovatie' (Legal Manual on Transformation and Renovation), which was published by Berghauser Pont Publishing in 2019.

He also regularly lectures at academies, including Spryg and Berghauser Pont, and various professional bodies. Joost was appointed to the board of the Expropriation Lawyers Association (VOA) in March 2017.

Joost has listed the following main and secondary legal practice areas in the register of legal practice areas of the Netherlands Bar (Nederlandse orde van advocaten, NOvA):

- Environmental and planning law (environmental law, planning and zoning law)
- Expropriation law
- Real estate law (construction law)

This listing requires him to obtain ten training credits in each registered main legal practice area in accordance with the standards of the Netherlands Bar each calendar year.
