

HANDPRINT DISPLAY: YOUR SCHOOL'S PLEDGE

On Monday 3rd October, join The Diana Award and Nationwide Building Society as we come together, welcome one another back and remind everyone of the need for mutual respect in our schools and communities.

Demonstrate your commitment to putting an end to bullying behaviour by creating a colourful handprint display!

Simply print out copies of the handprint below, ask students (and staff!) to decorate their handprints to show their individuality and stick them up on a display in your school entrance or hallway. Alternatively, encourage your students to draw around their hands and cut out their own handprints for an extra touch of flair!

Your display title could say 'Our school is joining millions of students taking the pledge against bullying in The Big 2022 #AntiBullyingAssembly'. Once your display is complete, remember to post a pic on social media and use the hashtag #AntiBullyingAssembly.

You can also tag The Diana Award - @AntiBullyingPro - on Facebook, Instagram and Twitter. We'll be reposting your photos and posts during the week of 3rd October so we look forward to seeing your display!
