

Last Will Instructions

Either handwrite separately OR print separately and have notarized: If you have a lawyer please consult with them, and take note of your local state/country regulations for creating a legally binding post mortem document / last will. For the last will to be valid you must put your signature, location, and date at the bottom.

The cryopreservation contract is valid without it, but it is advantageous to make sure challenges to the contract can be avoided. We strongly recommend creating this document.

Sample text:

Body donation

(1) In full possession of my mental powers, I have voluntarily and testamentary transferred my body after my death to the company "Tomorrow Biostasis GmbH" (Commercial Register Sheet 201918 B, registered in the Commercial Register of the District Court of Berlin-Charlottenburg, Graefestraße 11, 10967 Berlin), hereinafter "Tomorrow". This transfer is for the purpose of cryopreservation of my body and for the purpose of the general advancement of scientific knowledge in the field of cryopreservation. My irrevocable intention to make this testamentary disposition of my body is hereby expressly confirmed.

(2) This is accompanied by the fact that Tomorrow is solely and exclusively responsible for the care of my corpse. All others, organizations, institutions, authorities and persons, especially my relatives, I exclude from the care of the dead. "Tomorrow" is thus also the sole procurer of the funeral.

(3) Within the scope of the application of this living will, no decision may be made or action taken that thwarts or complicates the purpose of my body donation to Tomorrow as described above. Tomorrow shall be informed about my state of health in order to be able to prepare the cryopreservation measures in the best possible way.

(4) This directive applies worldwide.

(5) I also request that the following steps be taken immediately upon my passing:

1. To immediately notify "Tomorrow" of my passing (Tel: +49 1515 9209203). "Tomorrow" will arrange for the transfer.
2. To have two death certificates issued by the appropriate medical personnel.
3. To apply for the burial certificate and the death certificate at the competent authority (usually the locally competent registry office) upon presentation of a death certificate.
4. "Tomorrow" receives both a death certificate and a burial certificate or death certificate.
5. A dissection / autopsy, for example after a hospital stay, as well as any burial measures are to be omitted.