

Bridger Launches “The CluB”, An Artist Services Marketplace for its members

Bridger’s goal is to bring independent musicians to copyright. In addition to its core mission, the online service supports DIY artists to develop their careers, grow their music projects and increase their revenues through multiple free initiatives.

To help artists discover and adopt the most relevant tools to manage their artistic activity, Bridger launches “The CluB”, an artist services marketplace freely accessible to all its members.

“The CluB” is the best way for Bridger’s members to discover services that can help them strengthen and accelerate their music projects” says Jocelyn Seilles, Founder and General Manager of Bridger. “This reinforces our offer dedicated to independent artists and our goal to help them generate more revenues.”

“The CluB” is accessible to all Bridger members and already showcases a dozen services, including support to meet other musicians, find a manager or any other music professional, access rehearsal studios, receive a mix and a master of tracks from a sound engineer, maximize project visibility online, and much more.
