

Bradley's Jewellers York wins Inspiring Independents Award

Each year, Retail Jeweller magazine names the top 100 best independent jewellers and watch specialists in the UK and Ireland as part of its Inspiring Independents initiative. Bradley's Jewellers York was thrilled to make the list for 2023 and receive a special Highly Commended Regional Winner Award at a ceremony in London on June 15. Let's find out more...

Imagine being told your business is one of the best independent jewellers in the United Kingdom. That's exactly what happened for Kay Bradley and her team in June 2023, when Bradley's Jewellers York was named an 'Inspiring Independent' by Retail Jeweller magazine. The annual Inspiring Independents initiative is designed to shine a spotlight on the top 100 businesses across the UK and Ireland that are lighting up the high street with sparkling diamonds, precious gemstones, and beautiful bridal jewellery. To celebrate, representatives from all 100 businesses were invited to attend a lunch, hosted by Retail Jeweller, at London's Courthouse Hotel on June 15. Kay Bradley travelled from her store on Low Petergate to the capital to network with other professional jewellers, toast her achievements, and find out if she would receive a special Highly Commended Regional Winner Award.

Earlier this year, members of the jewellery trade were invited to nominate their favourite independent jewellers to win one of five awards, broken down by region. These Highly Commended Regional Winner Awards single out the retailers who have gone above and beyond in the last 12 months to boost their businesses and please their customers. Therefore, you can imagine Kay Bradley's delight when Bradley's Jewellers York was named Regional Winner for the North of England by Retail Jeweller acting editor, Sarah Jordan (pictured). This is another fantastic achievement for a small but mighty female-owned company that has secured a host of awards and commendations in the last two years. Make sure to visit Bradley's Jewellers York to see what makes this fine and bespoke jeweller so special.
