faq

Can current Pro Reveler Company dancers audition for an Elite Reveler Runner Up/ Winner Scholarship at a Regional City? No.

If a dancer participates in both the Elite Reveler Audition and Pro Reveler Audition at a Regional City, are they able to receive and utilize both scholarships? Yes, dancers can receive both scholarships. They would first attend Nationals to compete and audition for Elite Reveler of the Year. If the dancer is awarded Elite Reveler of the Year at Nationals, then they are automatically accepted into the Pro Reveler Company. If the dancer is not awarded Elite Reveler of the Year, then they can still utilize their Pro Reveler Scholarship the following season.

Can dancers compete a solo in the Elite Reveler of the Year Title Competition and General Solo Competition at Nationals? Yes. An Elite Reveler recipient can enter 1 solo in the Elite Reveler of the Year Title Competition and 1 solo in the General Solo Competition. Elite Reveler of the Year Title Competition is for adjudication only, as part of the title score includes the audition component. They can be the same solo since the Elite ROTY Competition will not include Top Overall Awards.

supporting equity + inclusivity_

EYA's mission is to create a more equitable and inclusive dance community by removing financial barriers and empowering talented and committed artists through access to dance education and opportunities. We believe that every dancer deserves a chance to pursue their passion and we are dedicated to making that dream a reality.

Revel is one of only three Certified Events by Youth Protection Advocates in Dance (YPAD). This means that our team has undergone significant training in the areas of Safety & Wellness for young dancers, and are responsible for upholding the standards set forth by YPAD. These standards include, but are not limited to background checks for all Faculty & Staff, staff being certified in CPR and First Aid, and ensuring policies and procedures uphold REVEL's inclusive, equitable, and family-friendly environment. While attending REVEL, studios should expect convention classes with age-appropriate music and movement choices. REVEL expects the same from attending studios in terms of performances on the competition stage. We believe that as a community everyone can work together to create positive progress in the competitive dance industry. For more information on REVEL's certification through YPAD, please contact our Customer Experience Team.
