MUDDY WHAT?

... playing
new blues for you!

The siblings Fabian and Ina Spang, as well as Michi Lang, are among the busiest live musicians in Germany. With energy and individuality, the trio enchants its wide-ranging audience on international and renowned stages, as well as festivals.

Fabian Spang vocals, guitar
Ina Spang guitar, mandolin
Michi Lang drums, bass

Having an unusually flexible set-up (either as an acoustic trio with Ina on mandolin and Michi on bass or with an electric set-up with Ina on electric guitar and Michi on drums) MUDDY WHAT? takes you into impressively soulful and also funky-groovy sound worlds.

Unmistakable: The brilliant sound of Ina's mandolin.

NEW BLUES with dynamics, joy of playing & lots of feeling

"One feels transported to the enchanted and mysterious swamps of the Mississippi Delta: hypnotic, stirring, and absolutely perfectly performed."

Wolfgang Weitzendörfer, Journalist

"This band defies the stereotypes of a blues band: they're young, they have a female lead guitarist, they play with an unusual lineup, and they write their own songs."

Peter Gruner, Journalist

"Muddy What? has become an outstanding representative of the so-called New Blues. Recognition from professional circles is high, as demonstrated by, among other things, winning the Germann Blues Challenge 2021."

The playing with omission, with the deliberate creation of empty spaces, and the feeling for dynamics on stage [...] the siblings Ina and Fabian Spang, as well as Michi Lang, have also mastered this discipline.

The result is highly individual music, sometimes archaic, sometimes elegiac, always surrounded by a latent aura of mystery, perhaps even mysticism.

Most of the eleven songs are written by Muddy What? themselves, so both thumbs go right up. Rich in variety and highly recommended!

"Two men, one woman - what makes this trio so special? Many things. It causes astonishment in the audience, because one does not associate the members with this music genre given their age."
