

UPPING YOUR ELVIS

Upping Your Team with Unilever. We worked with teams from around the world to create a culture that thrives on experimentation and creativity, delivering extraordinary results.

We created a core of confident leaders at Unilever, ready to inject creative magic into any opportunity. It resulted in a more energetic, human, and inspiring culture, and teams of people with the skills to lead change and drive bottom-line results.

Through a combination of workshops, events, and our digital programme, we equipped their teams with skills to drive new thinking into their work and lives. Empowering them to:

DISCOVER how to embrace flexibility, experimentation, and collaboration.

LEARN to apply new thinking and lead others in thinking differently.

BECOME a pro-facilitator, presenting successfully, and holding a room with ease.

UNDERSTAND how to embed a positive and productive feedback culture.

THRIVE on making extraordinary things happen every day.

“Upping Your Elvis unleashed the power of the people in my team, enabling them to provide conscious and creative leadership to help others translate insights into big ideas.”
