Challenges:

- No single source of truth enterprise data warehouse with source data living in different systems
- Lack of consistent reporting to physicians in an easy-to-read format
- Large amount of ad hoc analysis straining resources, which created a reactive mindset
- Planned expansion to create a super-group required a uniform data reporting platform across practices
- Difficulty driving accountability due to multiple sources of truth reporting

Results:

- Built a single source of truth enterprise data warehouse linking together several source systems
- Facilitated consensus around data accuracy from the administrative and physician leadership to gain buy-in
- Delivered a comprehensive reporting platform for executive, operational, finance, revenue cycle, and physician teams
- Developed multiple reporting delivery models for end-users, including a static push report and interactive dashboards
- Aligned A-PM to the group's key ROI initiatives for ongoing engagement and accountability
