

Pharma + the DevOps Revolution

The race to release new therapy innovation has never been more competitive. In 2020, the global prescription drug pipeline handled 17,737 treatments. In 2021, this number jumped to 18,582 (Gartner). Today’s health consumers have high digital expectations and a flood of low-cost therapies to choose from.

“With our complex and growing Salesforce environment landscape, it was challenging to keep up with the volume and pace of deployments between environments.”
