

Factsheet 4: Resources

Community resources

Open Letter to the CDC: Networks of People Living with HIV Demand a Moratorium on Molecular HIV Surveillance, 2021

<https://actionnetwork.org/forms/open-letter-to-the-cdc-we-demand-a-moratorium-on-molecular-hiv-surveillance/>

Is molecular HIV surveillance worth the risk? 2020

<https://www.hivlawandpolicy.org/sites/default/files/CHLP%20Molecular%20Surveillance%20Final.pdf>

Academic journal articles

Ethical considerations in global HIV phylogenetic research, 2018

<https://pubmed.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/30174214/>

Addressing Ethical Challenges in US-Based HIV Phylogenetic Research, 2020

<https://academic.oup.com/jid/article/222/12/1997/5856131>

We Are People, Not Clusters!, 2020

<https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/full/10.1080/15265161.2020.1809550?src=recsys>

Reassessing the Ethics of Molecular HIV Surveillance in the Era of Cluster Detection and Response: Toward HIV Data Justice, 2020

<https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/full/10.1080/15265161.2020.1806373>

Webinars & Presentations

AIDS Watch 2021: Molecular HIV Surveillance

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=J5EXDBfqCfU>

HIV Data in Action - Update on the use of molecular data to focus prevention, 2018

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=5axalq1DZGU>

Is molecular HIV surveillance worth the risk? 2020

<https://vimeo.com/366590291>

U.S. PLHIV Caucus Factsheets on molecular HIV surveillance

Understanding Molecular HIV Surveillance: Public Health & Human Rights Implications, 2019

<https://sw-ke.facebook.com/HANCLegacyProject/videos/2076102539353794/>

Without Our Consent: Centering People Living with HIV in HIV Genetic Sequencing (Part 1/4)

March 27, 2019. Hosted by the Legacy Project. Presenters: Marco Castro-Bojorquez, HIVenas Abiertas; Octavia Lewis, Positively Trans National Advisory Board; Venita Ray, Positive Women's Network-USA; Cristine Sardina, Desiree Alliance; Dr. Andrew Spieldenner, US People Living with HIV Caucus; Robert Suttle, SERO Project.

These Trees Cast No Shade: Understanding HIV Phylogenetics Research (Part 2/4)

April 18, 2019. Hosted by the Legacy Project. Presenters: Dr. Carl W. Dieffenbach, Division of AIDS, National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases; Venita Ray, Positive Women's Network-USA.

Understanding Molecular HIV Surveillance: Public Health and Human Rights Implications (Part 3/4)

April 25, 2019. Hosted by the Legacy Project. Presenters: Dr. Eugene McCray, Division of HIV/AIDS Prevention at the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention; Naina Khanna, Positive Women's Network-USA.

Cluster Tracking is People: Community Town Hall on Molecular HIV Surveillance (Part 4/4)

May 15, 2019. Hosted by the Legacy Project. Presenters: Brian Minalga, MSW, The Legacy Project; Venita Ray, Positive Women's Network-USA; Andrew Spieldenner, PhD, US People Living with HIV Caucus.

Media articles & commentary

Questioning the Benefits of Molecular Surveillance, 2020

<https://www.poz.com/article/questioning-benefits-molecular-surveillance>

Molecular HIV surveillance: friend or foe?, 2020

U.S. PLHIV Caucus Factsheets on molecular HIV surveillance

<https://www.aidsmap.com/news/jan-2021/molecular-hiv-surveillance-friend-or-foe>

HIV Genetic Data is Tracked and Shared. It's Creepy and Dangerous, 2021

<https://marksking.com/my-fabulous-disease/molecular-surveillance/>

What Exactly Is Molecular Surveillance—and Why Are HIV Advocates Freaking Out Over It?, 2020

<https://www.thebody.com/article/hiv-molecular-surveillance>