

Overflow keeping you down?

On-demand experienced legal support at an affordable price

The challenge of working as an in-house counsel can be rewarding, but when you're stretched too thin, it can also be overwhelming. Legal work starts to pile up on your desk at an alarming rate, your email inbox is overflowing, and you get assigned new projects on a daily basis.

And while you know you need to find legal support, you don't have the time to hire an associate and go through the hurdles of teaching them everything they need to know to get started.

Caravel Law can help lighten your load. Our team of over 60 lawyers is equipped with extensive qualifications and practical in-house experience. Our lean business model means our lawyers can provide legal support with attractive pricing options so that clients never feel surprised by their legal expenses.

Client-First Focus

At Caravel Law, we thrive on client happiness. Our full team is committed to serving the needs of our clients, building relationships and celebrating successes. Our focus will always be on happy clients and happy lawyers.

How we help:

On-Demand Support Have more work than you can handle? Perhaps a project that's been sitting on your desk for months? We're here to help. We have experienced senior lawyers, associates and law clerks available to work with you, and to provide support for all your legal needs.

Subject Matter Professionals Need help across a range of practice areas? We have legal experts that are skilled in multiple areas of law, including employment, privacy, anti-spam, money laundering, technology, corporate transactions, litigation, immigration, franchising, real estate, leasing & more.

Leave Coverage Looking to avoid the stress of hiring short term replacements? Whether it's parental, medical or other leave, we can help fill the gap with the legal experience you need without the hassle of interviewing and training. Plus, our flexible pricing options mean you only pay for the amount and level of legal support you require.

Flexible Support Looking to customize the engagement to exactly what you need? We offer monthly, daily, and fixed-fee pricing. Call in experts from any practice area as needed, and our team of lawyers can provide legal support remotely, from your office (when appropriate) or a combination of both.
