Scottish Construction Accord: draft Transformation Action Plan

We want your feedback

Construction Leadership Forum

A construction sector for the future

The Scottish Construction Accord was published in October 2022 as 'A commitment between industry and the public sector to create a thriving and high performing construction sector in Scotland'

Construction Leadership Forum

A construction sector for the future

Central to the Accord is a Transformation Action Plan, developed by representatives from across the construction sector.

The Transformation Action Plan has a dynamic and live programme of initiatives, underpinned by a communication programme.

This is what the Transformation Action Plan will do:

Construction Leadership Forum

For Net Zero

The Transformation Action Plan will support the Just Transition to net zero – making sure Scottish construction is ready for the challenge by mapping out and connecting initiatives.

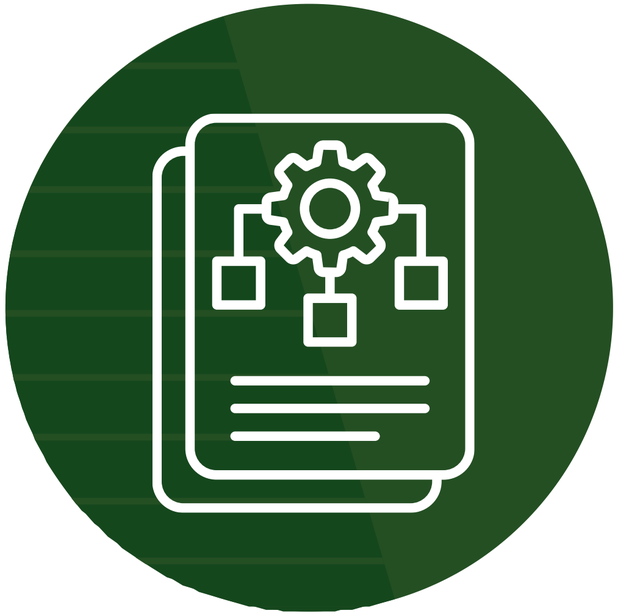

Construction Leadership Forum

For Construction Quality

Quality will be placed at the centre of decision making and create a quality culture across the sector.

Construction Leadership Forum

For Construction Procurement

Improved procurement will play a key role in driving success and as an enabler in realising the wider opportunities for the sector.

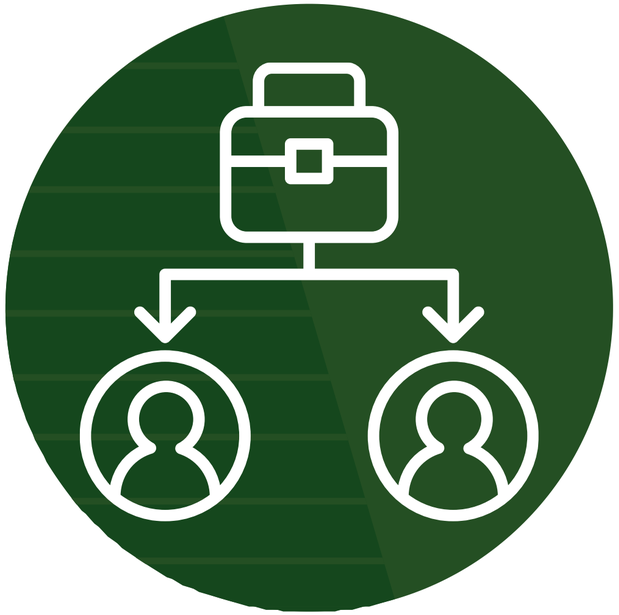

Construction Leadership Forum

For a Pipeline of Projects

Pipeline forecast provides transparency and supports jobs, training and investment.

Construction Leadership Forum

For everyone working in the sector

Ensure the sector has the skilled workers it needs, ongoing CPD becomes the norm and individual competency becomes the new currency with equality of opportunity and fair and inclusive work practices.

Construction Leadership Forum

For those supplying the sector

Establish a shorter and resilient supply chain so there is greater opportunity to spread economic benefits more widely.

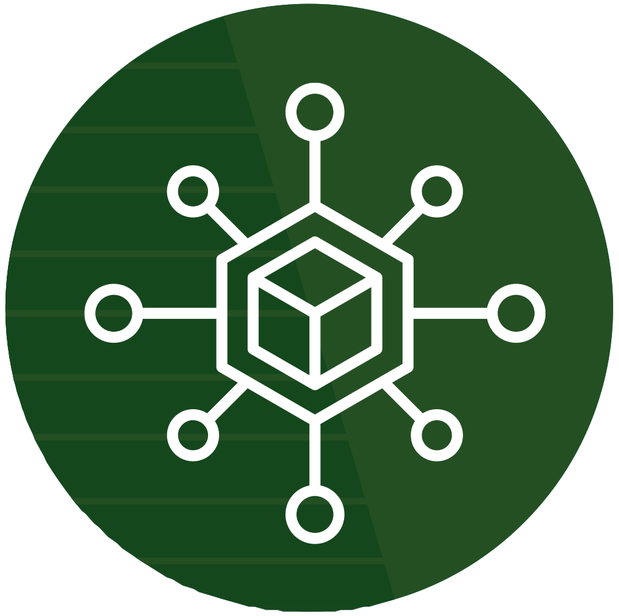

Construction Leadership Forum

For Modern Methods of Construction

Develop knowledge and skills alongside support for offsite manufacturing and other concepts so that these methods can become a ‘business as usual’ option, leading to a sector that is more confident in using MMC.

Construction Leadership Forum

For Digital

Better understand and champion the opportunities a digitally enabled industry can bring.

Construction Leadership Forum

For Data

Robust and reliable data will allow the construction sector to make well informed decisions.
