

Sirius named best investment manager in the Nordics

5.9.2018

For the third consecutive year, Sirius Capital Partners has been voted the best real estate investment manager in Finland in the Euromoney survey. This year, Sirius was also named the best investment manager in the Nordics and Baltics.

Euromoney brings together real estate advisers, real estate developers, investment managers, tenants, and banks in more than 60 countries around the world to vote for the market leaders in a number of categories. The Euromoney annual survey was now organized for the 14th time.

– We are grateful for our re-appointment as Finland's best real estate investment manager, and in particular for the nomination as the best investment manager in the Nordic and Baltic countries. In the Nordics, the competition is really tough and the respondents represent a vast array of real estate investors and other leading market actors. The achievement shows that Sirius's business model is successful and appreciated also outside Finland, says Sirius CEO Patrick Gylling.
