WELCOME TO CITY OF PLOVDIV

Plovdiv is the second largest and important city in Bulgaria.

It is situated on both banks of Maritsa River in the Upper Valley at 42 ° 9 ' north latitude and 24 ° 45' east longitude, and the lowest point is at 160 m above sea level. The area is 101.981 square kilometers with population about 365,000 people. Plovdiv is strategically important industrial, commercial, scientific, cultural and transportation-communications center on the Balkans region. The city is famous with the international fair, whose spring, autumn and other specialized exhibitions make it a center of economic and business. Plovdiv is a strategic railway junction and the airport "Plovdiv" recently established itself as an alternative to the airport "Sofia". Through the city are passing major road arteries, which since ancient times have associated the Orient with Europe, the Baltic and the Mediterranean, the Black Sea and Adriatic sea. Its unique location as an ancient crossroad has stimulated strong cultural and political influences from East and West civilizations but still maintained its cultural identity. The six hills give unique and picturesque beauty to the city, and the protected areas have preserved a considerable number of rare plant species. The Maritsa River and the green hills form the specific climatic conditions – mild winters and hot, but humid summers. Climatic conditions and geographic location of the city have contributed to its positive growth in all historical periods. The preserved architectural, historical and cultural heritage have established the city as a major tourist center of Bulgaria. Plovdiv is older than Rome, Athens, Carthage or Constantinople, and is considered as a contemporary of ancient Troy. Today the town is built on the ruins of ancient cities and its culture has evolved from the legacy of many previous cultures.
