Augeo orchestrated a remarkable five-day celebration in San Juan, Puerto Rico, supporting Hurricane Maria recovery for our client.

We organized diverse events, ensured punctual transportation and efficiently handled international shipping. We also created a custom mobile app to provide guests with digital support for itineraries, travel activities and attendee engagement.

I was concerned about logistics and everything outside of our control, but Augeo pulled it all off so seamlessly. Thanks for your leadership of our internal and external teams—and I can't wait for our next event.
