MIXOLOGY

Welcome to My Bunker, Let me share a bit about my life story with you. I was born into a family of artists and from a young age, we traveled the world, showcasing and selling their art. My childhood was filled with adventure, as we relocated to various countries, each with its own unique culture, art scene, and flavors. As I grew older, I became more ambitious and realized that selling art could be more lucrative than creating it. With my natural talent for diplomacy and my multicultural upbringing, I decided to pursue a career as a global art dealer. My work took me to fascinating and captivating places, where I immersed myself in the local culture and art scene, always on the lookout for rare and valuable pieces to add to my collection. My adventures and experiences made for captivating storytelling, and I quickly became the life of the party, regaling my acquaintances with tales of my world travels. My clientele included world leaders, politicians, celebrities, musicians, talented sculptors and painters. I cultivated these exclusive relationships with my well-polished communication skills and multicultural background. Now, as I approach retirement, I invite you to relish in my collection of curiosities and adventures. My museum-like collection showcases the rarest and most valuable pieces that I've gathered throughout my travels, and it's a testament to my lifelong passion for the arts and fine spirits.

Come in, take a sip, and let me share with you the captivating stories and treasures that make up my life's work.
