ALTMAN + BARRETT

Altman + Barrett Architects was created by Walter Altman and Keith Barrett on January 1, 2006 with the primary objective of providing design services throughout the Southeast with an architectural firm that specializes in educational facilities. Our principals have over 50 years of architectural experience and have completed over 2 billion dollars of educational design work. Altman + Barrett takes pride in knowing that our clients are provided with a collaborative partner which allows a shared vision to come to life in each school.

OUR TEAM

Altman + Barrett feel that our results speak for themselves. We have had tremendous success in educational design due to our commitment to our client. Our personnel pride themselves in providing the award-winning solutions that exceed project goals and expectations. Ranging from Architects, Engineers, Project Managers, Interior Designers, Specialists, and Consultants, our dynamic mix allows us to handle virtually any project that comes our way.

“

Altman+ Barrett Architects have always gone above and beyond the scope of work of an architect. From the numerous hours of master planning, meeting with faculty and staff to get input from the end users of the facility, to following up after the completion of a project, they really do put their heart and soul into each and every project. The knowledge and talent that the A+B team poses is second to none. They are by far the most talented group of Architects I have ever worked with.

THE DESIGN PROCESS

Altman + Barrett was founded on the belief that design has the power to transform lives - for our clients, our students, and our communities. By gaining a holistic view of our clients' vision, needs, and context, and adding creativity and innovation, our work addresses complex problems. Our architecture responds to the needs and aspirations of our clients and communities. We give form and meaning to rooms, buildings, landscapes and cities — always balancing internal functions with external demands of site, climate and culture. We apply this approach to all facilities we design.

CAMPUS PLANNING

Altman + Barrett takes a holistic approach to design. This allows the school systems to always be a step ahead. We begin this process by completing a campus master plan for our clients. When doing this we consider traffic flow, room for growth, athletic additions, etc. This stage of the design process is crucial for successful firm client relationships.

PROGRAMMING

Altman + Barrett has an extensive programming plan to help ensure the final product is exactly what the school system desires. This begins with initial meetings with faculty and staff to express what their specific program needs are. This can be as broad as library sound level diagrams to as specific as cabinets in the nursing station. Our firm leaves no stone unturned in program analysis. The final building should meet and exceed the requirements all faculty and staff need to be able to educate.

CONSTRUCTION

Altman + Barrett have an outstanding record of keeping projects inside our client's budgets from Conceptual Design to Occupancy. The construction costs in all of our projects are controlled by first having a well-coordinated set of construction documents developed by a team of Architects, Engineers, and other professions. Altman + Barrett's construction supervision prioritizes keeping owners and other stake holders informed of ongoing construction activities throughout the duration of the project. We strive to give our clients the best design and build while never breaking the budget
