

Workshop: Forum Theater: Play It Out!

Build bridges of understanding and unity through theatrical roleplay

DESCRIPTION

"The Forum Theatre is a technique to engage the audience into the action, to teach and open discussion about a specific topic. A scene, indicating some kind of oppression, is shown twice. During the replay, any member of the audience is allowed to shout 'Stop!', and change the situation to enable a different outcome.

The journey through this workshop is accentuated by participatory play - a dynamic, innovative approach that seamlessly marries knowledge with engagement, whereby attendees are not mere spectators but active participants, navigating real-world scenarios, experimenting with solutions, and collectively crafting a future where diversity is not just welcomed, but strategically harnessed to propel organizations forward in unity and strength.

BENEFITS

Enhanced Collaborative Environment

Engaging with our expert facilitators through thoughtfully orchestrated participatory play enables attendees to not only understand but embody the principles of DEI in context, fostering a working environment where cohesive collaboration is rooted in mutual respect, understanding, and the vibrant interplay of diverse insights and strengths.

Infusing Fun into Work Dynamics

This workshop seamlessly integrates fun into the learning process, enhancing the overall experience while also providing a model for incorporating joy and light-heartedness into everyday work dynamics, fostering a positive and vibrant organizational atmosphere.

FACILITATORS

Andy Hefler and Declan Hannigan

