

Ultimate Learning Resources – ‘Creating...Space’

Building resilient organisations for the future

Why is 'Creating...Space' needed?

'While developing 'Creating...Space', we observed a significant increase in overwhelm and burnout, highlighting the urgent need for resilient teams.

These and many other challenges highlighted the need for organisations to 'Create...Space'.

This innovative program is designed to:

- Upskill teams and nurture individual strengths and skills while simultaneously focusing on achieving collective outcomes.
- Build resilience at both individual and organisational levels.
- Ingrain outcomes within the organisational culture, leading to sustainable transformation and ongoing growth.
- Foster a learning environment that evolves with the ever-changing professional landscape.
- Create a culture that values and supports personal and professional development as a fundamental part of the organisational ethos.

Why is 'Creating...Space' needed?

Lack of time	Struggling to find time for what is essential?
Reactivity over proactivity	Constantly reacting to urgent issues instead of proactively managing workloads?
Low efficiency	Not achieving the level of productivity that is needed?
Burnout and stress	Staff feel emotionally drained and are burning out? Recruitment, retirement, retention and absence are key challenges
Increasing targets	Frustrated with meeting increased demand?
Unmanageable expectations	Struggling to meet unrealistic expectations? Feeling the pressure to deliver more with limited resources?

How does it work?

Designed to leverage the power of online learning technology and group coaching.

Online learning technology

Leveraging the capabilities of our online learning platform to address strategic learning needs and enhance skills vital for modern business operations.

Group and team coaching for transformation

Using group coaching to embed and sustain transformative changes, fostering adaptability and resilience within teams and organisations.

Strategic adaptation

Understanding and addressing the evolving needs of modern businesses, focusing on strategic shifts and operational flexibility.

Measurement and evaluations

Learning how to measure the effectiveness and sustainability of transformations brought about by online learning and group coaching initiatives.
