FONTAINE® HEAVY-HAUL RELEASES 53FT CALIFORNIA LEGAL XCALIBUR EXTENDABLE PLATFORM TRAILERS

SPRINGVILLE, ALABAMA -- Fontaine Heavy-Haul, the recognized technology leader and innovator in the lowbed and extendable trailer industries, is introducing 53ft Xcalibur extendable trailers that are California legal. "We listened to our customers and responded with four 53ft California legal models offering a choice of spring or air suspension with tandem or tridem axles," explained Todd Anderson, VP Sales and Marketing. "All Xcalibur trailers are easy to operate, extraordinarily versatile and now legal on California roads," concluded Anderson.

The four new Xcalibur extendable models are 53ft in the closed position and 90ft fully opened. When the trailers are closed and the sliding axles are in their most forward position, the distance between the kingpin and the rear axle center is less than 40ft (making these trailers legal to operate in the state of California).

Xcalibur is designed for maximum uptime. An innovative cable management system helps protect telescoping air and electrical lines from damage. Sliding axles are attached to the trailer in a "Slider Box" so they move together as a unit. For greater strength and durability steel I-Beam crossmembers are welded on 12 inch centers. Steel reinforced mainbeams, structural steel siderails and steel front & rear skirts complete the heavy-duty design.
