

Located just 10 miles from Boston and 2 miles from Brandeis University, Chapel Hill-Chauncy Hall (CH-CH) is a private, college preparatory day and boarding school for grades 7-12, with a Post-Graduate option available.

Founded in 1828, CH-CH has spent the past 190 years challenging and preparing students from around the world for higher education. Through a partnership with Harvard University's Making Caring Common initiative, CH-CH is a leader in creating a nurturing environment for students, and its graduates have entered top universities including Columbia, Cornell, Dartmouth and NYU.

CH-CH's campus spans 42 beautiful acres in Waltham, Massachusetts. Teachers frequently use the space for outdoor classwork, such as a science course utilizing the campus pond for a biology lab or an English literature class finding a quiet spot in the shade to discuss the Odyssey.

The gorgeous campus offers a relaxing home for all students while still being one of the closest private boarding schools to the city of Boston. The boarding program allows students to gain independence while taking part in all the educational and cultural experiences Boston has to offer.

A Traditional Boarding School Close to the Center of Boston

CH-CH is located on a safe, quiet and scenic 42-acre campus located just 10 miles (16 km) outside of Boston.

Students enjoy all the fun activities and learning opportunities that Boston has to offer, including historic sites, elite colleges and universities, world-class restaurants, museums and more. Some recent student activities include:

- Red Sox game at Fenway Park
- Harvard vs. Yale Soccer game at Harvard
- Dinner in Harvard Square
- Community Service Trips
- New England Aquarium
- Kayaking/Sailing on the Charles River

Skills and Academic Strategies Program Provides an Individualized Approach to Student Success

Through the Skills and Academic Strategies (SAS) Program, individual Learning Profiles are developed for all students, offering flexibility to the whole spectrum of students with learning differences. Every student completes a "Learning Style Inventory" to help them and their teachers understand their learning strengths.

Students also take part in executive function development work, including the skills to improve planning, prioritizing, organizing, cognitive shifting and self-monitoring, which allow students to mature into effective independent learners.

ELL And College Counseling Programs Customized For International Students

International students are integrated into classes with native English speakers, while receiving additional guidance on active reading, research techniques, written expression, vocabulary building and discussion skills. The school offers ELL Workshops to help students with time management, goal setting and tasks that will enable academic success.

International students take part in a personalized college preparatory process led by a counselor who graduated from Harvard University.

International students have been accepted by their top choice universities including University of California-Irvine, University of California-San Diego, Boston University, Georgia Institute of Technology, University of Washington and Pratt Institute.

Innovative Program Inspired by Multiple Intelligence

CH-CH uses Multiple Intelligence Principles to guide its curriculum, helping students develop a wide range of knowledge. At the school, learning takes place both inside and outside of the classroom. Students participate in community service activities, as well as a wide variety of mini courses that take them all across the country, from nearby organic farms to the hiking trails of Colorado. Additionally, boarding students have daily opportunities to grow and develop essential life skills.
