Coldplay 2025 españa

Coldplay se formó en la Universidad de Londres Central (UCL) mientras sus miembros estudiaban juntos. Después de lanzar algunos EPs iniciales, lograron un contrato con Parlophone y una rápida crecimiento en la prensa musical británica. Su debut, Parachutes, se lanzó en 2000 y alcanzó el éxito gracias al exitoso sencillo "Yellow", una canción de amor simple pero identificable con una melodía alta. El álbum vendió bien por ambos lados del Atlántico, preparando a Coldplay para su segundo álbum. A soaring melody has defined Coldplay's career, with albums selling by the bucket load on both sides of the Atlantic. Their second album, A Rush Of Blood To The Head, was a massive hit, featuring hits like In My Place and The Scientist. While they were lumped in with other pop-minded guitar bands like Travis and Elbow, their arena-ready sound and restless creativity set them apart. By the time X&Y arrived in 2005, Coldplay were one of the biggest bands on the planet, with a frontman married to a Hollywood A-lister. The album was designed to be played to huge crowds in huge venues, and Martin nailed the conveyance of relatable emotions on a majestic scale. Working with Brian Eno allowed them to venture to the furthest limits of their creativity and adventure, expanding their sound without drastically altering it. Coldplay shared exciting updates with their fans about upcoming concerts. Confirmed dates include two shows in Hull on August 18 and 19, 2025, at the Craven Park Stadium, as well as five dates at London's iconic Wembley Stadium on August 22, 23, 26, 27, and 31. The band clarified that these will be their only European concerts for next year, sparking even more anticipation to get tickets. For fans eager to attend these highly anticipated shows, Coldplay offered a special incentive. Fans who purchase the new album Moon Music through official UK or EU stores can access preferred ticket pre-sales. This promotion also includes those who have already bought the disc. General tickets will be available from September 27 at 9:00 AM (UK time). Playing their first show at Wembley Stadium for a ten-show residency, Coldplay will entertain nearly one million fans in August and September 2025. Despite the initial ticket release, it wasn't enough, and tickets were quickly snapped up. Fans have turned to resale websites like viagogo, StubHub, and Seat Unique to secure their tickets. These sites allow fans to buy resale tickets from other fans, but it's essential to check ticket conditions as they may prohibit resale after initial purchase. If not, tickets could be voided and admission refused. Coldplay tickets are currently available through various resale websites, including viagogo, Vivid Seats, and StubHub. Ticket prices may vary depending on the seller, being higher or lower than face value. Fans buying Moon Music at official Coldplay stores in the UK or EU will get exclusive access to early entry tickets. Join the WhatsApp channel for LOS40 Solo Reino Unido, as announced dates only include UK concerts, so no Spanish dates have been confirmed. Concerts are scheduled on August 18 and 19 in Hull, Estadio Craven Park; August 22-31 in London at Wembley Stadium. There is a hint of sustainability with the band's shows being powered by solar, wind, and kinetic energy. No European concerts have been announced beyond these dates. Ticket sales for Coldplay's concert will begin on September 27th at 9:00 am BST, with various dates and locations announced: - Hull - Craven Park Stadium (September 18th and 19th) - London - Wembley Stadium (August 22nd, 23rd, 26th, 27th, 30th, and 31st)
