

Click Here

Savannah georgia crime statistics

Given text: 6600 Abercorn Street Savannah, GA 31401 912-651-6675 7 AM — 7 PM Monday - Friday OR Northwest Precinct 602 E. Lathrop Ave 912-651-6675 7 AM - 7 PM Every Day 6600 Abercorn Street Savannah, GA 31401 912-651-6666 Monday - Friday 8:00 AM — 5:00 PM Saturday - Sunday Closed I'm a bit of a statistics nerd, so I created a Savannah crime map to keep track of the shootings and homicides that occur in the city. Since I frequently help readers find safe accommodations, I figured it would be beneficial to have the information available in visual format. Additional maps have been archived here:2024 Savannah Crime Map2023 Savannah Crime Map2022 Savannah Crime Map2021 Savannah Crime Map Please note that I don't keep track of every crime that occurs in the city. I only track incidents that result in death or injury. In a few rare exceptions, I may also list drive-by shootings where multiple homes were damaged but no injuries occurred. Why track crime statistics? Because I think it's helpful for you to be aware of current crime trends when you're visiting a new city. (That includes any urban area — not just Savannah.) Please do your research so you can stay safe and avoid crime hotspots while traveling. Here are the current results for crime in Savannah... Click on any icon to pull up additional information and links to news reports about each incident. Use the + or - signs in the bottom left-hand corner to zoom in and out on the map. As I mentioned above, I don't keep track of every outstanding call for "shots fired". I only track incidents where a person was either injured or killed. That means this crime map includes homicides, gunshots with injuries, and stabbings that resulted in injuries. Click on any icon on the map to pull up additional details, links to pertinent news articles, and follow-up reports. You may need to zoom in, since some of the incidents overlap. Rest in peace to the following individuals who lost their lives in Savannah in 2025: No identification released: Southside | 02.17.25 Rasheen James Lovett, Jr. East Side | 02.21.25 Alexander Hernandez, 34; East Side | 03.07.25 Duquan Marqual Kitchens, 28; West Side | 03.07.25 Benny Wright, 41; West Side | 03.08.25 Name pending notification: Southside | 03.15.25 Chris Allen Villegas-Fentress, 29; North Side | 03.15.25 Name pending notification: West Side | 04.05.25 Name pending notification: East Side | 04.07.25 No officer-involved shootings have been reported in Savannah this year. In January of 2025, at least four Savannah schools were placed under lockdown due to two off-campus shooting reports in the vicinity of the schools. [source] Also in January of 2025, a man serving life in prison had three of his convictions overturned by the Georgia Supreme Court. Jerry Chambers was convicted on three counts of felony murder in 2020 and sentenced to life without the possibility of parole. The convictions were overturned based on a technicality: the State failed to prove that officers pursuing Chambers were "badged and uniformed." [source] In February, two SPD vehicles crashed into one another at the intersection of W 37th and Montgomery while responding to a commercial burglary call. The officers were not seriously injured but were transported to the hospital to get checked out. [source] Also in February, two Chatham County Sheriff's Office vehicles crashed into one another near Grayson Stadium while chasing a suspicious vehicle. [source] One adult male died in mid-March Looking at a recent incident, SPD officers were pursuing a suspect vehicle through a residential area when the suspect's car collided with another innocent driver's vehicle. To get familiar with Savannah's layout, note that the city is generally divided into four main areas: West Side (west of Bull Street), East Side (east of Bull Street), Southside (south of DeRenne), and North Side (north of Gwinnett). Some people may also refer to Midtown as the Ardsley Park/Baldwin Park area near Victory Drive and Atlantic. Remember, crime can happen anywhere; this map is just a tool to show current trends for travelers. If you're visiting Savannah for the first time, consider staying within the boundaries of the Landmark Historic District. The district's borders are: North - River Street/the Savannah River, East - E Broad Street, South - Gwinnett Street, and West - Martin Luther King, Jr. Boulevard. It's generally safer to be closer to Bull Street than the outskirts. This area has the most restaurants, bars, and attractions, making it ideal for your initial visit. Here are five good hotels in the Historic District, according to readers: For more information on crime rates, check the Savannah Police Department's website or the Lexis Nexis Community Crime Map. The 2022 crime rate in Savannah was 204 (City-Data.com), which is around the average for U.S. cities. However, it's higher than in 78.1% of U.S. cities. Over the last five years, violent and property crimes have decreased in Savannah. According to City-Data.com, there were 612 registered sex offenders living in Savannah as of April 14, 2025, with a ratio of 240 residents per offender. Crime Rates in Savannah Compared to National Averages Savannah has consistently had higher rates of violent and property crime compared to the national average over the past decade. In 2017, Savannah's violent crime rate was 273.5 per 100,000 residents, while the national average was 220.1. Property crime rates in Savannah have also been above the national average, with a rate of 292.7 per 100,000 residents in 2017. Trend of Increasing Crime Rates While there are fluctuations from year to year, overall crime rates in Savannah have increased over time. In particular, property crime rates have shown a significant increase since 2006, while violent crime rates have remained relatively stable. The only exception is the drop in violent crime rates between 2014 and 2015. Law Enforcement Staffing Savannah's law enforcement department has experienced fluctuations in staffing levels over the past few years. In 2023, there were 318 full-time employees, including 430 police officers. This represents a decrease from the peak of 812 employees in 2017. The number of police officers per 1,000 residents in Savannah is slightly below the state average. Crime Rates by Year Here are some specific crime rate statistics for each year. * Violent crime rates: + 2022: 137.3 (property), 273.5 (violent) + 2019: 143.3 (property), 284.7 (violent) + 2018: 204.8 (property), 229.8 (violent) * Property crime rates: + 2022: 137.3 + 2019: 143.3 + 2018: 204.8 Note that these statistics only provide a snapshot of the data and do not include additional context or explanations for the fluctuations in crime rates over time. Savannah, GA Crime Statistics and Comparison Number of Full-time Law Enforcement Employees in Different Years In 2010, the city had 808 full-time law enforcement employees with 579 being male and 100 female. The officers per 1,000 residents were 2.59 compared to a Georgia average of 2.86. By 2009 this number decreased slightly with only 830 full-time law enforcement employees. However they still accounted for 3 officers per thousand residents making it the highest rate in the area. In 2008, there were 821 full-time law enforcement employees making up 3 officers out of every 1,000 residents. However at that time their number was lower than Georgia's average. However by 2007 the city had fewer full-time law enforcement employees with only 706 on staff. This means they accounted for only 2.48 officers per thousand residents in this year which is actually lower than the national average. By 2006 and 2005, Savannah still managed to have higher numbers of full-time law enforcement officers and even lower crime rates with a total of 708 and 711 respectively. Despite these smaller staffs the city had one of the highest rates per thousand residents in the area. Savannah, Georgia has one of the highest rates of property crimes in America, including motor vehicle theft, arson, larceny, and burglary. According to FBI crime data, the chance of becoming a victim of any of these crimes in Savannah is one in 50. Notably, the city has one of the highest rates of motor vehicle theft in the nation, with a likelihood of car theft being one in 329. In contrast, violent property crimes in Savannah account for only 3.80% of all reported crimes per 1,000 residents. The crime map provided by local law enforcement agencies offers a detailed overview of all crimes reported in Savannah. The color-coded legend highlights areas with lower and higher crime rates, offering insight into total crimes on a block group level. While the red areas on the map may not necessarily indicate danger for residents, they can be inflated due to high-traffic locations or tourist areas. Despite having one of the highest property crime rates in America, Savannah is generally considered a safe location for its citizens and visitors. However, like any major city, it has areas that require additional precautions. Georgia as a whole has a violent crime occur every 14 minutes and 50 seconds, with murder happening every 12 hours and 26 minutes, rape every two hours and 26 minutes, robbery every two hours and three minutes, and assault every 19 minutes and 25 seconds. Recent data from the Georgia Bureau of Investigation shows that the state's violent crime rate has been decreasing. It is essential to analyze the crime statistics in Savannah and compare them to both Georgia's average and the national average to understand the frequency and type of crimes committed in the area. Notably, some crimes occur more often in Savannah than elsewhere, making it crucial to address these issues and maintain public safety. The crime rates in Savannah show some disparity compared to both state and national averages. The city's murder rate stands at 11.6 per 100,000 people, which is higher than Georgia's average of 8.2 per 100,000 and the national average of 6.3 per 100,000. In contrast, Savannah has a lower rape rate compared to both state and national averages. However, when it comes to robbery, assault, burglary, and theft rates, Savannah surpasses the state and national averages significantly. In terms of safety, Savannah generally ranks better than Atlanta in crime statistics. While Atlanta still grapples with high crime rates, particularly homicides, Savannah has seen a decrease in crime over the past few years and is considered a safe city. It's often deemed safe to walk at night in Savannah, but being aware of one's surroundings and exercising common sense can help prevent issues. Neighborhoods like West Savannah, Cloverdale, Carver Heights, and areas north of Victory Drive are generally best avoided due to high poverty rates and crime levels. Traveling through well-lit areas and being mindful of potential hotspots is recommended for both visitors and locals. As a place to live, opinions about Savannah vary depending on individual needs and priorities. Some residents appreciate the city's friendly atmosphere, relatively low cost of living, and vibrant entertainment scene, making it a good place to reside for many. Savannah is renowned for its welcoming atmosphere, vibrant cultural landscape, and relatively affordable lifestyle. Nevertheless, it also grapples with minor crime concerns, notably a higher-than-average murder rate compared to other cities. While no urban area is entirely free from such issues, the city's many strengths make it an attractive destination for both residents and tourists alike. If you're facing criminal charges in Savannah, consulting with a seasoned defense attorney could be instrumental in navigating your situation effectively. At Jarrett Maillet J.D., P.C., our legal experts can help construct a compelling defense strategy, collect relevant evidence, and advocate on your behalf throughout the entire process.

Savannah crime rate 2021. Crime in savannah ga 2022. Is the crime rate high in savannah georgia. Savannah violent crime rate. Savannah georgia crime rate. Savannah crime rate 2022. Savannah ga crime rate.