Located in Utah County, Utah Valley University invites students to come as they are and leave prepared to make a difference in the world. As the Spring 2025 semester begins at UVU, stress levels may rise, but the Noorda Center for the Performing Arts will provide relief with its second half of its 2024-2025 season run. This includes National Theatre Live performances, such as "Hamlet" starring Benedict Cumberbatch and a show featuring Gangstagrass. The semester also brings a range of real-world learning experiences near Utah's tech epicenter and growing job market, along with a vibrant social scene. With a focus on teaching all students, UVU aims to provide them with the skills they need to succeed in the world. Upcoming performances at UVU include 'Prima Facie' on the sixth, directed by Justin Martin. On February 13th, 'New Orleans Songbook' and the UVU Contemporary Dance Ensemble's 'A Bolt from the Blue' will take the stage. Throughout the month of February, events like Ballet Folklórico de Mexico on the 18th and the 2025 Art History Symposium on the 27th will showcase various talents. Hubbard Street Dance Chicago will visit on the 25th, while UVU Theatre starts their run of 'The Whole Story' on the 21st. In March, UVU Wind Symphony's Spring Concert kicks off on the fifth, followed by National Theatre Live's third return with 'The Importance of Being Earnest' on the sixth. The Utah Symphony will host a Dvorak's Symphony No. 8 performance on the 20th, featuring concertmaster Madeline Adkins. March also sees the Repertory Ballet Ensemble perform 'Traversing Tradition' from the 27-29, and the Commercial Music Showcase on the 29. April brings student performances from various Performing Arts programs at UVU. The Jazz Orchestra will perform on the second, while The Queen's Cartoonists showcase their work with UVU Art and Design students on the fourth. 'Little Women' by UVU Theatre starts its run on the fourth and continues until the 12th. Other notable events in April include Mixtape Live by UVU's Commercial Music Program on the eighth and 'Opera vs. Popera' by the Opera department on the 11-12.
