Masters Cardmakers in Marsellessince Nicolas Conver (1760) Philippe Camoin, last Marselless Cardmaker, heir to the line of Conver-Camoin Cardmakers going back to 1760, is the international reference on the Tarot de Marseille. The course of Philippe Camoin is between esotericism, occultism, mathematics, medicine and technology, but it is with the Tarot de Marseille that it devoted his life. Since its youth, he studies Spirituality and the Esotericism as well as the Western and Eastern religions. After an unforgettable spiritual experiment at the 23 years age, it withdraws world and is dedicated to vast and intense research on the secrets of the Tarot and its origin. To Recover and rebuild the lost symbolism of the Tarot took many years. This research gave rise to its Tarot de Marseille published in 1997, a work that it realized jointly with the scenario writer, poet and writer Alejandro Jodorowsky. Philippe Camoin integrates in an extraordinary way his spiritual knowledge in the universe of the Tarot de Marseille. During its long investigation, he discovered the key of a hidden language of the Tarot. He reveals a system of unknown codes, a multidimensional complex structure connecting all the Arcana between them and from where spouts out a mysterious esoteric Teaching. This language decoded secret generates a new vision of the Tarot, a teaching voted by plebsicite by its thousands of students of the whole world. Currently, Philippe Camoin combines teaching and writing, continuing his research on the old tarots and having like hobby the data-processing programming and the foreign languages. Guardian of the Tradition of the Tarot de Marseille since more than two centuries, the Camoin House was forced by the industrial revolution to change the colors of the Tarot. After a long Philippe Camoin, research task and Alejandro Jodorowsky tried to rebuild the colors and the symbols of the Tarot. Some were incomplete or had already disappeared at the 18th century. Philippe Camoin, reference internationally recognized on the Tarot de Marseille, and Alejandro Jodorowsky, scenario writer of legend and master es Tarot, linked their efforts in order to create a Tarot de Marseille which is most esoteric possible, while respecting esoteric breadth tradition and symbolic system. The attempt at Reconstitution of the Tarot de Marseille is a scientific study which was undertaken during several years per Philippe Camoin and Alejandro Jodorowsky. "Almost the totality of the Tarots of the whole world are copied from the pattern of the Tarot de Marseille", Philippe Camoin observes, in the light of many irrefutable signs which it gathered and reveals during his investigations on the Tarot de Marseille. The essential aim of this research is to find the symbols, the vocation and the significance first of this monument of the Occidental culture, whose language is also understandable to our Eastern friends. It is not useless to quote H.P.Blavatsky here: "The Tarot is the key of all the Western esotericism". This Tarot de Marseille was created in a quite precise intention, to recreate what the two authors think of being the Tarot de Marseille original and of thus conveying esoteric and philosophical concepts. Pour them, the Tarot is the emanation of an Entity. They undertook restoration of this Great Mind, one metaphysical machine which they call "The Tarot", a spiritual and cosmic machine expressing itself using one system symbolic system. It is about a work making it possible "to restore" the language of this entity and philosophical concepts conveyed in the original Tarot. The work thus completed is enormous, and it is for this reason that it took several years. It is not about a simple restoration of one old tarot, but of the rebuilding of a system of thought suitable for this entity which is the Tarot. Les two authors thus created a symbology expressing the philosophical concepts which are the starting point or the raison d'être of the original Tarot. To do this, they drew in only one deck of the symbols inspired of old tarots very different. Previously, those which created a Tarot de Marseille were based always only on one model of old tarot and only one. Philippe Camoin and Alejandro Jodorowsky proceeded in a completely different way. They are inspired by symbols coming from tarots belonging to different cities, at different times, and even with different classifications, and they them made cohabit in only one deck. Previously, nobody had done it. This manner of proceeding was completely heretical at the end of the 20th century. This made it possible to exteriorize a knowledge and vast unknown structure before made up of laws and complex codes, which induced a new tarology. The result is spectacular and enormous work is acclaimed by all the esotericists. During the process of rebuilding the Tarot, Philippe Camoin redrew all of the cards and led the investigation in collecting a vast number of ancient documents, working on his computer to reconstruct symbols that had been lost. On top of the years of research which were needed to assemble all the needed elements, Philippe Camoin passed two full years redrawing the cards. During these two years, he practically never left his Paris apartment he had taken for the project. Seven days a week, he examined the elements on his computer, redrew the lineist stroke in each of the 78 cards with the help of a light pen. Alejandro Jodorowsky came regularly to visit and together they debated the choices and improvements to be made. In the middle of this Coded Structure, a set of codes was placed at the Origin so that the true direction of the Tarot is never lost and been able to be found afterwards centuries and centuries of lapse of memory. The logic of the Secret Codes brings the insurance of unquestionable significances of the Arcana of the Tarot, shown by means of a system of Laws. A lexicon and a grammar appear then, clarifying the unknown language of the Tarot. For the people who studied the Tarot since years, these codes will be a revelation and the answer so that they sought all their life in the Tarot. When Philippe Camoin chose Alejandro Jodorowsky to help him to spread a secret teaching on the Tarot which had never before been revealed by anyone, he wanted simply to pass along an unknown initiatory message and to pass it along in a secret way. But Alejandro Jodorowsky suggested that he recreate a deck of the Tarot de Marseille, which would enable him to show the world that this was truly a serious and authentic teaching. He told him that he must outdo his ancestors, correcting the errors that had been made in the ancient Tarot decks. So it is thanks to the impetus given by Alejandro Jodorowsky that the Tarot de Marseille was redesigned with the codes and symbols of the secret teachings which Philippe Camoin had initially wanted to simply pass on orally. Naturally, Alejandro Jodorowsky brought his customary genius to the work; many other symbols were in this way rediscovered thanks to him. « Having studied Tarot for over 40 years, I met in Paris Philippe Camoin, who is the direct heir of the Camoin family, the last Tarot de Marseille printers in Marseilles. The origin of the factory goes back to 1760; it was created by Nicolas Conver, who at that time engraved the most celebrated Tarot of Marseilles, the Nicolas Conver Tarot de Marseille (reissued in 1965 by the Camoin House). From the outset, we decided to work together to reconstruct the Tarot de Marseille to its original form. Knowing secret facts regarding its history, manufacturing, tradition, and symbolism, and being in possession of the original plates, we were the only ones who could reconstruct the original Tarot de Marseille. We studied and compared on computer innumerable versions of the Tarot de Marseille, among which were the Tarot of Nicolas Conver, the Dodal Tarot, the Francois Tourcay Tarot, the Fautrier Tarot, the Jean-Pierre Payen Tarot, the Suzanne Bernardin Tarot, the Tarot of Besançon by Lequart, etc. The difficulty inherent in such a work of restoration lies in the fact the Tarot de Marseille is made of symbols which are tightly intertwined and linked to each other. » Alejandro Jodorowsky « During two years, I split my time between meditation and my computer, this in order to redesign the deck of the Tarot de Marseille so it would be the most beautiful and the most esoteric Tarot possible. When I was tired, I would go meditate for an hour. Then, I would find my energy and launch myself back into work on my computer. When I again tired, I would return to meditate for an hour. And so on for two entire years. » « Sometimes we were searching for the explanation for a symbol which had disappeared. Alone, we could have searched for hundreds of years to no avail. But, as soon as we began to work together, we would find the solution immediately. One of us would propose a hypothesis. The other would suggest an improvement and advance another hypothesis. And so on... Some time later, and sometimes even after only a few minutes, we would find the answer to something that thousands of searchers of the Tarot had sought for centuries. Our enthusiasm was always equal to our discoveries. We felt like the Masters of Tarot for the whole planet, since we were the only ones to know all its secrets, and we will always feel that way. It was an extraordinary feeling. » Philippe Camoin Compared to other Tarot decks, including Conver, this deck contains innumerable symbols which were rebuilt starting from many old tarots. Thanks to these symbols, a coherent esoteric unit appears. This deck is essential to be able to study the Secret Codes and the Laws of the Tarot which were revealed by Philippe Camoin. The combination of all these symbols between them brings to the tarotist and to the esotericist additional thousands of interpretations, and it is that essence. At the end of this book, a separate chapter presents the Camoin Method of Practical Reading of the Tarot, with many examples so that you can start from the beginning to live the mysterious language of the Tarot de Marseille. The Tarot is a spiritual path. But to follow this path and decode it, you have to start by arranging it in a certain way. It is by placing the 22 major Arcana in 3 rows of 7 cards each that Philippe Camoin has chosen to explain the system of Secret Codes existing in the Tarot. In the middle of this Coded Structure, a set of codes has been placed in the Origin so that the true meaning of the Tarot is never lost and can be found after centuries and centuries of oblivion. The logic of the Secret Codes provides the assurance of certain meanings of the Arcana of the Tarot, demonstrated by means of a system of Laws. A lexicon and a grammar appear, highlighting the unknown language of the Tarot. For people who have studied the Tarot for years, these codes will be a revelation and answer to what they have been looking for all their life in the Tarot. In order to highlight and translate the subtle language induced by the Tarot Secrets, Philippe Camoin has created an innovative teaching system and a revolutionary reading method, the Tarot Reading Camoin Method, which is used by its thousands of students around the world. The complex language of the Tarot is transformed and a new vision, on how to make the interpretation, appears. Phrases are written and the Tarot gives his advice. The Tarot Laws revealed in this book will bring an immense wealth of interpretations and a surprising precision. This method is completely dynamic, the number of cards is not defined in advance, which makes each draw unique. By practicing this method of Reading, you can check for yourself the relevance of the codes, laws and rules of interpretation that Philippe Camoin gives you here. This book presents a system of secret codes that were totally unknown before. They bring coherence to all the arcana and allow to decode unpublished lessons. The secret codes reveal an unknown knowledge about symbolism, esotericism, the laws that govern tarot and destiny, the meaning of arcana, numerology, esoteric astrology, and ancient religions. No one will be able to claim to know the Tarot without having studied these codes. According to Philippe Camoin, the esoteric symbolism was hidden in the original prototype of the Tarot of Marseille by initiates in the first century of our era. These initiates, in the footsteps of Hiram of Tîre, perpetuated this symbolism and these teachings over the centuries in Provence. It is this original esoteric symbolism that the Tarot Secrets can find. The Tarot thus becomes the path of the pilgrim or the disciple who will go through an inner transformation in order to become master himself. Unpublished revelations on the history of the Tarot and on the ancient times come to bring a totally new vision on the origin of the Tarot of Marseilles and the Tarot in the West. When reading this book, it is obvious that the Tarot was already known in Provence at least before its appearance in Italy. Many pictures of ancient tarots, as well as historical references allow to modify the traditional belief on this origin. A thorough study according to three methods: that of the historian, that of the magician and that of the scientist. For the first time in the history of the Tarot, Philippe Camoin has highlighted a system of laws he called the Tarot Laws. These are repetitive systems that come to characterize the different types of codes. You will discover in particular the Law of the Inversion, the Law of the Ends, the Law of the Two, etc. For example, the fact that the Sword appears both in Justice and in the Wheel of Fortune or that the symbol of the house appears both in the House of God and in the Moon, all this corresponds to the Law of the Two, and this connects the two cards concerned. The many examples presented in this book will lead you to an extremely accurate Tarot Reading. The Tarot Reading is the essential element for a good understanding of the Arcana. It allows to verify by practice what has been learned in the theory. It opens the door to another understanding of oneself, others and the life around us. Philippe Camoin has developed a Tarot Reading Method that allows an extremely precise interpretation. These are real sentences that are written under the eyes of the consultant and the tarologist. Thanks to this system using the Secret Codes and the Tarot Laws, it is possible to interpret a draw without having extraordinary gifts for mediumship. This book presents the Camoin diagram 3x7. It is a combination of the arrangement of the major Arcana according to 3 ranges of 7 cards and the discovery of the Secret Codes that result from this arrangement. It is then dozens of completely known codes that appear and that bring totally new meanings to the major Arcana. Thanks to the Tarot Secret Codes, Philippe Camoin reveals a grammar and a lexicon of the Tarot. The Tarot thus becomes a real language with its names, its verbs, its adjectives, its adverbs, its times. This grammar makes it possible to interpret the whole sentences that are written in the draws during the Tarot Reading, and thus to understand the causes, the conditions and the solutions.
