

I'm not a robot

Elif karaarslan leaked video

Elif Karaarslan, a 24-year-old Turkish female referee, has been handed a lifetime ban by the Turkish Football Federation (TFF) over allegations of having sex with a 61-year-old referee observer, Orhan Erdemir. The suspensions took effect on October 4th, with Karaarslan facing a 90-day suspension and Erdemir receiving a 45-day penalty. Karaarslan has denied being in the alleged video and plans to appeal the decision, stating that she will "overcome in the strongest and most robust way." Her legal team claims that the montage video was created using AI from someone else's social media account, posing a threat to others facing similar accusations. Erdemir, on the other hand, has admitted to being in the video but stated it was circulated without his permission, causing him significant emotional damage. Turkish referee Elif Karaarslan denies sex tape allegations, claims it was created using AI technology. Elif Karaarslan, une jeune arbitre turque de 24 ans, a été suspendue par la commission d'arbitrage de la Fédération turque de football après qu'une vidéo intime prétendument mettant en scène elle et Orhan Erdemir, un superviseur d'arbitre de 61 ans, a circulé sur les réseaux sociaux. Cependant, Elif Karaarslan a nié toute implication dans cette vidéo, affirmant qu'il s'agit d'une création réalisée à l'aide de l'intelligence artificielle et que la qualité de l'image est extrêmement mauvaise. Elle a souligné que les personnes impliquées dans la création et la diffusion de cette vidéo ont porté atteinte à son honneur de femme. L'avocat d'Elif Karaarslan a également publié un communiqué dans lequel il soutient que la vidéo a été générée avec des intentions malveillantes à l'aide de l'intelligence artificielle et que les parties de la relation ont été entièrement éditées par ordinateur. Cette affaire a suscité des débats sur l'éthique, la vie privée et l'équilibre entre les droits individuels et les responsabilités organisationnelles dans le sport. Elif Karaarslan est une personnalité populaire sur Internet et son implication dans ce scandale a attiré l'attention de nombreux fans qui la soutiennent. Elle a déclaré qu'elle allait se défendre avec force contre ces accusations et espère avoir le soutien et l'amour de ses fans tout au long de cette période difficile. Turkish football referee Elif Karaarslan has found herself at the center of controversy after a video featuring her and veteran referee Orhan Erdemir went viral on social media platforms. The clip, which surfaced in October 2024, is reported to contain sensual footage of the two referees during a match break. Erdemir's extensive experience as a referee has earned him a reputation in the Turkish football community, but his involvement in this scandal has raised eyebrows. With a license number 6474 and affiliated with the Istanbul region, Erdemir's position was suspended alongside Karaarslan's after the incident came to light. The controversy further intensified following an incident in May 2024, during the Trendyol Süper Lig match between Galatasaray and Trabzonspor. As a result of the scandal, both referees were handed bans by the Turkish Football Federation (TFF), with Karaarslan expressing her intention to appeal. With over 404,000 followers on Instagram, Karaarslan denied being involved in the leaked video and vowed to clear her name through the legal process. A Turkish referee, Elif Karaarslan, 24, has been banned from officiating after a sex tape scandal emerged, but she claims the X-rated video was fabricated using AI technology. Karaarslan denies being the woman in the video and says she will take legal action to clear her name. Her legal team stated that the video was created by montage from someone else's social media account with malicious intentions. Meanwhile, Orhan Erdemir, 61, a former FIFA referee, has confessed to being the male in the video and claims his reputation has been ruined as a result. Both Karaarslan and Erdemir have received lifetime bans from the Turkish Football Federation. Karaarslan has vowed to stand by her cause and overcome the situation with the support of her loved ones, while Erdemir has expressed the emotional damage he has suffered is indescribable. The incident has sparked concerns about the use of AI technology to create fake videos and the potential harm it can cause to individuals' reputations. Turkish referee Elif Karaarslan, 24, has been given a lifetime ban from football after an alleged sex tape featuring her with Orhan Erdemir, 61, surfaced. However, Elif denies being in the footage and plans to appeal against the decision. Elif, who played for Besiktas before becoming a referee, insists she will "overcome" the situation with "the strongest and most robust way". Erdemir, also banned from football, claims he was not given permission to circulate the video and fears his reputation has been irreparably damaged. The two had allegedly been involved in an intimate relationship despite their significant age difference. Elif's supporters are rallying around her, but she acknowledges she still faces a "long road ahead legally".