Known as "the true Queen of Romance" by Vogue, she was a staple of the literary scene.Dame Barbara Cartland: A Trailblazing Romance Author ========== Barbara Cartland was a trailblazing romance author known for her captivating stories and sassy style. She wore pink dresses and plumed hats most of the time. Born Mary Barbara Hamilton Cartland on July 9, 1901, in Edgbaston, Birmingham, she came from a wealthy family that faced financial difficulties after her father's death in 1918. In London, she began writing at a young age and soon gained fame with her gossip columns and novels like "Jigsaw". Her early success was followed by a string of bestselling romance novels. She hosted lavish parties and became known for her bold fashion sense. Cartland also ventured into stage plays, including one that was banned by the Lord Chamberlain's Office. Throughout her career, she wrote extensively on various topics, including married life, health, and cookery. In 1962, she published "A Guide to Good Behaviour from the Boudoir to the Boardroom", which sparked controversy in Ireland. The 1970s and 1980s saw Cartland's writing output soar, earning her a place in the Guinness Book of World Records. With over 723 books to her name, including romantic novels, autobiographies, biographies, and health books, Cartland is one of the most prolific authors of all time. She sold over 1 billion copies worldwide, leaving behind 160 unpublished romances to her son Ian after her passing in 2004.The numerous adaptations and sequels to Agatha Christie's works, specifically her romance novels that feature love as a central theme, demonstrate the enduring appeal of these stories. Over the years, numerous authors have reimagined her ideas in various ways, giving readers new perspectives on classic tales. ========== Love is an Eagle (1951) Cupid Rides Pillion (The Secret Heart/The Lady and the Highwayman) (1952) Love is the Enemy (1952) Elizabethan Lover (1953) Love Me for Ever (Love Me Forever) (1953) Desire of the Heart (1954) The Enchanted Waltz (1955) The Coin of Love (1956) The Captive Heart (The Royal Pledge) (1956) Stars in My Heart (1957) Sweet Adventure (1957) The Golden Gondola (1958) ========== The listed titles appear to be romance novels, many of which have a regal or aristocratic theme. They often feature strong female protagonists and handsome heroes, with tales of love, danger, and adventure. The stories frequently involve themes of love conquering all, even in the face of adversity or societal expectations. Titles such as "The Prince and the Pekingese" and "Bride to the King" suggest a medieval or historical setting, while others like "Love Climbs In" and "The Explosion of Love" imply a more modern context. The use of alliteration in titles, such as "Women Have Hearts" and "Light of the Gods," adds a touch of whimsy and poetry to these romance novels. Many of the titles feature wordplay on phrases like "Love Rules" and "Tempted to Love," which suggests a lighthearted and humorous tone. Others, such as "The Poor Governess" and "Revenge of the Heart," convey a sense of drama and intrigue. Overall, these romance novels seem to be characterized by their focus on love, relationships, and personal growth, with a mix of historical and modern settings, and a range of themes and tones.Love Library Collection By Various Authors ========== A Caretaker of Love (1986) Riding to the Sky (Riding in the Sky) (1986) Lovers in Lisbon (1987) Sapphires in Siam (1987) A Herb for Happiness (The Herb for Happiness) (1987) Saved by Love (1987) A Circus for Love (1987) The Goddess of Love (1987) The Perfume of the Gods (1987) An Adventure of Love (1987) Only a Dream (1987) A Revolution of Love (1988) The Temple of Love (1988) A Chieftain Finds Love (1988) The Lovely Liar (1988) The Passionate Princess (1988) Revenge is Sweet (1988) Little Tongues of Fire (1988) The Perfect Pearl (1989) A Knight in Paris (1989) Solita and the Spies (1989) Love is a Maze (1989) Love at First Sight (1989) Paradise in Penang (1989) The Necklace of Love (1989) The Taming of a Tigress (1989) The Bargain Bride (1989) The Spirit of Love (1990) Real Love or Fake (1990) Kiss from a Stranger (1990) A Game of Love (1990) A Very Special Love (1990) The Hunted Heart (The Haunted Heart) (1990) The Marquis Wins (1990) Beauty or Brains?
