Merlite Jewelry No Longer Exists ===== As of July 2015, Merlite Industries, Inc. can no longer be found because the company is out of business. The old website now has ads on it. Merlite Industries, Inc., a company in New York, was involved in a lawsuit with Valassis Inserts, Inc. They received $16,808 for their expenses due to the other company's breach of contract. Merlite only appealed about the loss of profit claim, which was dismissed. Many people are wondering what happened to Merlite Jewelry and if it's still online or offline. Some websites claim they can't find any information about the company. However, looking at corporate records shows that Merlite Industries, Inc. was a real business in New York that stopped being active a long time ago. People can buy some of Merlite Jewelry items on Etsy, but these are not new pieces and are mostly old stock. If you're looking for Merlite Jewelry information or catalogs, the best bet is to use online search engines to find other sources. Merlite Jewelry no longer has catalogs available for purchase due to the company's closure. The former website now redirects users to ads from other jewelry retailers. Prior to its demise, Merlite was a popular discount retailer offering various products like rings, necklaces, men's jewelry, and birthstones.
